RECORDS TUMBLE IN WAR ON DOPE

Both Adults, Juveniles Using More Drugs But Teen-Age Alcoholism Decreasing

Narcotics arrests of Marin County adults and their children soared to record heights last year, jumping more than 200 per cent from the arrest figures of 1966.

County police authorities report 213 juveniles arrested for involvement with marijuana, plus some methedrine and other dangerous drugs last year, compared with 65 in 1966.

Of the adults, 255 were arrested for narcotics offenses last year as compared with 76 the previous year, according to statistics from the Marin County Sheriff's Office.

The figures on juveniles may be misleadingly low, said Undersheriff Sidney Stinson.

For every juvenile narcotics offender arrested, there was probably another whose involvement with marijuana was simply reported by the police officer to the family and worked on informally, he said.

Stinson called marijuana use dangerous. He also noted a corresponding drop in juvenile use of alcohol. (See another story page 12.)

Stinson attributed the sharp rise in arrest rates to increased availability and notoriety of narcotics, plus a better educated police force.

The California Highway Patrol in Marin made only two adult narcotics arrests in 1966, but

Ability-To-Pay Cal Tuition Fee Urged

Regents To Hear Monagan

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Assembly Minority Leader Robert T. Monagan today offered an alternative to Gov. Ronald Reagan's plan to levy a new student charge at the University of California and the state colleges.

The Republican floor leader proposed that the university and the colleges impose higher fees — with the rich paying more than those with lower incomes.

The Tracy legislator's plan also differs from the $156 per academic year hike reportedly agreed upon by a special committee of the university regents.

TO REGENTS

Monagan will present his suggestion to the regents tomorrow, the day when the governing board considers its own committee's proposal at their current Berkeley session.

Monagan told a news conference that if the regents accept his plan, he will ask the Legislature to impose an identical system on the state colleges.

He said he believes the regents eventually will vote for additional charges to help pay for rising costs of higher education.

Meanwhile today Assembly Speaker Jesse M. Unruh declared "I would very seriously doubt" the Legislature will approve new state colleges even if University of California regents impose higher fees on their students.

Unruh sharply attacked student charge proposals as "a tax increase" as he talked to newsmen in the Capitol hallway just an hour after Monagan proposed his own plan for increased fees.

UNRUH CRITICAL

Unruh who has clashed frequently with the Republican governor this session — told newsmen "I will oppose anything that constitutes a tax increase this year. I don't care whether it is called tuition, fees or a tax increase."

Monagan said his plan would be based on "ability to pay" and would produce between $25 and $30 million in additional money for higher education. He said it could be used for student aid, faculty salaries and new buildings.

For those college and university students whose family incomes amount to less than $10,000 a year, the fee increase

RAID AVENGED

U.S. Soldiers Kill Red Commander

SAIGON (UPI)—U.S. paratroopers today killed the Viet Cong chieftain who had daringly raided and burned a village next door to Gen. William C. Westmoreland's field headquarters.

A military communique said an ambush patrol of the 101st Airborne Division—the former outfit of the American Vietnam commander—spotted and shot three guerrillas on a jungle trail on the fringes of War Zone C north of Saigon.

Papers on one body identified the dead guerrilla as the leader of the Viet Cong force that Jan. 6 burned 110 homes and terrorized the citizens of Tan Uyen village, adjacent to the field headquarters of all American troops in Vietnam. The raid had been one of the most daring and most successful of the series of Viet Cong attacks in the Saigon area in the new year.

In the air war, U.S. jet pilots reported they probably shot down at least one of the MIG21 delta wing interceptors that battled American warplanes striking North Vietnam yesterday. U.S. spokesmen said the dogfighting broke out as American planes on 82 missions hit roads, bridges and supply dumps, most in North Vietnam's southern panhandle.

The attack against Tan Uyen two weeks ago came just before dawn, about 20 miles north of Saigon. It was in easy rifle shot distance of the Vietnam headquarters of U.S. troops. The Communists poured back into the jungle when American and South Vietnamese forces approached.

Today the Viet Cong commander was killed about 40 miles north of Saigon, during an American sweep once more through war Zone C.

Cost Of War Leveling Off; Casualties Up

WASHINGTON (AP) — Administration officials say the U.S. commitment to the Vietnam war may be close to the high water mark in men and money. In Saigon, reports said U.S. casualties rose sharply last week.

Washington sources said they anticipate "a leveling off of both money and forces in Southeast Asia in the coming year."

This could mean U.S. troop strength in Vietnam will stabilize near the 525,000-man mark, although it does not rule out further reinforcements if conditions dictate.

$1.2 BILLION INCREASE

Discussing President Johnson's upcoming budget, these officials told newsmen they calculate that about $25.75 billion will be spent during the fiscal year to prosecute the Vietnam war—a $1.2 billion increase over this year.

All told, Vietnam war costs will account for nearly one-third of the $77.2 billion defense budget Johnson will send to Congress within the next couple of weeks.

While the fiscal 1969 military budget will be up $2.9 billion over 1968, it still will fall about $11 billion short of the World War II peak.

Meanwhile, American casualties in the Vietnam war rose sharply last week. The U.S. Command in Saigon reported today that 278 men were killed in action and 1,323 wounded, compared with 184 killed and 1,132 wounded the week before.

ENEMY CASUALTIES

Enemy casualties last week dropped to 2,216 killed, a major decline from the record 2,868 reported for the previous week.

The report increased the total American combat casualties in the war to 16,549 killed and 102,197 wounded. The command said another 968 Americans are listed as missing, captured or interned since Jan. 1, 1961.

South Vietnamese headquarters reported 357 government troops were killed last week, 946 were wounded and 110 were missing or captured. These tolls are among the heaviest of the war for South Vietnamese forces.

Johnson Urges Surcharge Tax In Union Talk

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's call for higher taxes along with increased spending has drawn early fire from key congressional leaders. And he apparently has made no inroads into opposition to his Vietnam policies.

Johnson's statement last night that rejection of his 10 per cent income tax could cripple U.S. prosperity drew no applause from the assembled senators and representatives.

And in a news conference 30 minutes after the speech, House Republican Leader Gerald R. Ford said Johnson failed to make a case for the tax boost.

Chairman William Proxmire, D-Wis., of the Senate-House

NOVATO BOND VOTE

$8 Million Wanted For Parks, Streets

By THERON A. NEWELL

Novato voters will go to the polls Tuesday to vote for or against bond issues totaling $8 million for streets and parks.

When the city was incorporated eight years ago, two of the arguments for incorporation were need for better streets and more parks. The bond issues now proposed would enable the city to obtain these faster than could be done on a pay-as-you-go basis.

Two propostitions will be on the ballot.

Proposition A will be for a $5,750,000 bond issue for a street improvement program.

Proposition B will be for $2,250,000 in bonds for park acquisition and improvements.

The voter can vote for or against either or both.

Bartle-Wells Associates, financial consultants for the city, have prepared a plan whereby the tax rate to retire the bonds would not exceed 40 cents per $100 assessed valuation in any year.

The 30-year bonds would be sold over a period of 10 years as the work progressed.

The tax rate would be the same if both propositions passed or if one passed and the other failed, according to City Mgr. J. Julien Baget. The difference would be in the rate the bonds were sold, or some might be 20-year bonds instead of 30-year if only one issue passed, Baget said.

Non-Smoking Teen-Agers Said Mature

BERKELEY (UPI) — Adults who do not smoke generally have an adolescent history of self-control, an appreciation of mature values and a modest view of themselves.

Heavy middle-aged smokers usually show little "need for achievement," a tendency to escape unpleasant situations and a teen-age history of overt aggressive behavior.

These profiles—with individual exceptions—are sketched by a sociologist at the Berkeley campus of the University of California in the current issue of Social Science and Medicine, a scientific journal published in Great Britain.

Prof. John A. Clausen of the U.C. Institute of Human Development analyzed data based on studies begun in 1931 on 200 boys and girls enrolled in junior high school in Oakland. Follow-up surveys continued until the subjects reached their mid-40s.

Clausen said three general

Wave Grabs Young Angler; Body Missing

A young Navy airman, fishing from a rock near Stinson Beach, was swept to sea and presumably drowned yesterday after frantic efforts by a friend to save him.

Gary Neal Prichard, 20, a San Jose airman stationed in Kingsville, Tex., was still missing after a two hour search by a Coast Guard helicopter off the coast two miles south of Stinson.

His fishing partner, Robert Eugene Davenport of Richmond, told sheriff's deputies they had been fishing for about three hours when a giant wave pulled Prichard off the rock.

He gave this account of the accident:

They were on a rock jutting over the water, with waves 12 feet high all around. Davenport was on the higher level of the rock.

He told Prichard the waves were getting bigger and asked him to move to higher ground.

"My bait is still fresh so I'll cast one more time," Prichard responded.

Davenport tried in vain to reach him. As Prichard was carried out to sea, he tried casting his line to him, but each cast was wide or short.

Davenport last saw his friend, a head outlined against a swell, 75 yards from the rock. He heard Prichard yell "Bob," and when the swell passed, the young fisherman had disappeared.

The Coast Guard searched two hours with no result for Prichard, who was on leave, visiting his mother, Ruth Prichard, in San Jose.

REAL HOT SEAT

$1,100 Auto Repair Goes Up In Smoke

A car being road-tested yesterday in San Rafael after an $1,100 repair job was gutted by a fire that started in its six-way electric seat.

"I felt the seat of my pants getting warm," said Thomas Vasconcello, mechanic for San Rafael Tire and Brake. Smoke erupted from under the seat as he stopped on Belle Avenue, and he sprayed the contents of two home fire extinguishers under the seat.

The seat then burst into flames, he told firemen later, and gutted the 1962 Cadillac. Smoke from the blaze could be seen two miles away.

Firemen said the fire apparently was started by a short circuit either in the seat motor or wiring.

The car, under repair for front end damage from a recent accident, was to have been returned yesterday to its owner Dr. Robert D. Dunbar of 610 D Street, San Rafael. Dr. Dunbar's office reported yesterday that "he is out shopping for a new car."

Terrorists Claim Another Victim In Guatemala City

GUATEMALA (AP) — Defying a sweeping police roundup to check terrorism in Guatemala, gunmen killed a wealthy landowner yesterday, one day after the slaying of two U.S. military officers.

Alfonso Alejos de la Cerda, 77, was machine-gunned in a suburb of the capital, and his driver was wounded. He was an uncle of Roberto Alejos, a presidential candidate in 1962, and of Carlos Alejos, a former ambassador to Washington.

Havana Radio, reporting the assassination, said another nephew "gave his farm for the training of Cuban counterrevolutionaries and mercenaries for the Bay of Pigs invasion in 1961."

Alejos was shot a day after assassins in a speeding car machine-gunned U.S. Army Col. John D. Webber Jr., 47, Houston, Tex., head of the U.S. military advisory group in Guatemala, and Lt. Cmdr. Ernest A. Munro, 40, Rockland, Maine, head of the U.S. naval section.

The Rebel Armed Forces, a Castroite group known as FAR, said it assassinated the Americans in retaliation for leftist guerrillas killed by Guatemalan army groups trained by the U.S military mission.

Marine Sgt. Harry L. Greene, 41, of Omaha, Neb., was wounded with two U.S. officers and was reported in fair condition. Army Sgt. Maj. John R. Forster, 42, of Seattle, Wash., was struck in the arm by shattered glass and was released Tuesday after treatment.

The government put more guards on the U.S. Embassy and other American installations and sent regrets to Washington.

Webber and Munro were the first U.S. victims of a wave of rightist and leftist terrorism that has taken more than 1,000 lives in the last year and a half. Two Guatemalans were assassinated Tuesday, and one terrorist was killed.

In Washington, State Department press officer Robert J. McCloskey said about 5,000 U.S. citizens live in Guatemala.

Riots Continue Against Carrier

SASEBO, Japan (UPI) — Snakedancing leftwing students today stormed an American naval base in the second day of violence to protest the arrival of the atomic powered aircraft carrier Enterprise, expected later today.

Japanese riot squads once more hurled them back with tear gas and fire hoses.

Police reported at least 72 persons — 31 policemen, 38 students and three bystanders—were injured. Fifteen students were reported arrested. A first aid station reported treating 300 students for minor scratches and the effects of tear gas.

Johnson Renews Surcharge Tax Plea

Economic Committee called it "a serious economic mistake" for the President to seek a tax boost without slashing such programs as public works and space.

Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, D-Minn., said of the speech:

"We still are told the nation can wage and win two wars—the one in Vietnam and the war on poverty. We are waging one, but not winning other."

Johnson's brief remarks on Vietnam peace prospects—in which he reiterated U.S. demands for a North Vietnamese pledge of a curb on military action if U.S. bombing is to be halted—met with stony silence on the part of two of his severest war policy critics, Sens. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., and Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y.

As anticipated, Republicans found Johnson's message politically oriented.

Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., said the President made the State of the Union "sound like the state of the campaign." Sen. Hugh Scott, R-Pa., said Johnson "poured forth a cornucopia of promises" but failed to establish legislative priorities.

Johnson said it would take a $10.4 billion boost in spending to finance on-going programs in reporting the fiscal 1969 budget would reach a record $186 billion—with a built-in $8 billion deficit sure to go higher if the tax boost isn't approved.

PRESIDENT DELIVERS STATE OF UNION MESSAGE
(AP Wirephoto)

Only when he called for federal action to aid cities and states in combatting crime and to halt "mail order murder" through gun-control legislation did the President get enthusiastic reaction from the lawmakers during his 51-minute, nationally televised address.

Johnson drew greater applause in calling for a $2.1 billion program aimed at creating jobs for 500,000 hard-core jobless through federal-private business cooperation and a $100 million slum rebuilding program.

In another major domestic proposal, the President suggested a 10-year program to provide six million new housing units for low and middle-income families.

He prefaced his domestic proposals, which included calls for new prenatal care and consumer protection programs, by saying:

"In our cities last summer, we saw how wide is the gulf for some Americans between the premise and the reality of our society."

Johnson's estimate that the Southeast Asia conflict will cost $25 billion in the fiscal year beginning July 1 was immediately disputed by Rep. Melvin R. Laird of Wisconsin, chairman of the House Republican conference. Laird said the cost will be nearer $30 billion.

Asking for 100 additional FBI agents, the president predicted the nation will change frustrations into achievements to alleviate the despair in "the cities where the fires of disorder burned last summer."

"We can make progress only by attacking the causes of violence and only where there is civil order founded on justice," he said.

The President failed to pack the House. On the floor there were 29 vacant seats despite the hurried movement of aides and pages to fill the yawning spaces.

Of the 100 senators only 53 were present, including 30 of the 64 Democrats and 23 of the 36 Republicans. Of the 435 House members, only about 250 were present. Some members may possibly have decided to listen and view the speech on television in less crowded and more comfortable quarters.

Thant Repeats Bomb Halt Plea, Sees Peace Talks

UNITED NATIONS (UPI)—Secretary General Thant today renewed his appeal for an end to U. S. bombing of North Vietnam but warned that any resulting talks between Washington and Hanoi would not bring peace to South Vietnam.

He said any corresponding pause by North Vietnam would put it at a military disadvantage because of the power of the United States and its allies in South Vietnam, and could not be expected.

Nevertheless, Thant told a news conference, the United States should stop the bombing.

Transplant Patients Showing Improvement

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

At Palo Alto, Mike Kasperak was able to get out of bed yesterday for an hour in a special chair.

And in Cape Town, South Africa, Philip Baliberg was safe from the kind of infectious complications that killed the first transplant patient, Dr. Christiaan Barnard said.

Kasperak showed other signs of improvement over liver and kidney complications which set in after he became America's first adult heart transplant patient Jan. 6.

But doctors still list his condition as critical. Although his transplanted heart beats normally, a close watch is being kept for possible signs of rejection, a Stanford Medical Center bulletin said.

A bulletin at Groote Schuur Hospital said today Blaiberg's heart was working satisfactorily and his condition was unchanged.

Barnard said he was not talking of rejection of the new heart when he said Bailberg had passed a critical period.

"I am talking abut the period where he could suddenly get a massive infection," he said.

Congressman Again Blasts Navy Action

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Joseph Y. Resnick, D-N.Y., said today the Navy would rather destroy its best officers than admit to a possible error in judgment.

He said the Navy committed what he called a vengeful act when it relieved Capt. Richard G. Alexander as commander of the battleship New Jersey, now being readied for duty off Vietnam.

Resnick said Alexander's transfer to a desk job in Boston was in retaliation for his criticism of the Navy's handling of the case of Lt. Cmdr. Marcus A. Arnheiter of San Rafael.

Arnheiter was relieved of his command of the USS destroyer Vance, on active duty off Vietnam, in March 1966 because of charges brought against him by junior officers.

Resnick's criticism of the Navy's action was in a speech to the American Legion's National Defense Post.

Corte Madera's Sign Ordinance Due More Study

The Corte Madera Chamber of Commerce yesterday discussed the feeling by some businessmen that the town's sign ordinance is too restrictive, then agreed to contact town officials for a possible review of the ordinance.

Chamber president Robert D. Satterthwaite said complaints have been received that the ordinance should be more liberal in size of signs and location.

The chamber also named Donald Andresen as chairman to head the land development staff to appraise the town's land assets so figures can be presented to potential industry and new business, Satterthwaite said.

Plans for the annual Fourth of July celebration in Corte Madera already are being formulated by the chamber, he added.

Bids Received For School Bus

Two companies bid yesterday to supply a 67-passenger rear-engine bus to the Sausalito School District.

Gillig Brothers of Hayward was apparent low bidder at $24,483.43, the sum including interest over a five-year purchase period.

Crown Coach Co. of Los Angeles bid $24,855. Bids for the bus without interest were $21,666.75 by Gillig and $21,980 by Crown.

Sausalito trustees will take up the bids at 7:30 p.m. Monday in the district office.

School officials said the new bus will end most double runs by morning school buses and allow improved scheduling, and avoid long waits at the schoolyards by children.

Stolen Auto Is Recovered

Mill Valley police last night recovered a car reported stolen a few hours earlier at Hamilton Air Force Base and turned a 21-year-old airman over to Hamilton's Air Police.

The car, a 1965 Green Mustang, was reported stolen from Chester McFall at 4:10 p.m.

At 7:30 p.m., Mill Valley Police Sgt. James Wiemeyer saw the car parked at C's drive-in, 510 Miller Avenue, and arrested the driver, Sterling David McConnell, 21, of Hamilton. A 15-year-old boy with McConnell was released to his parents.

SMOKING

propositions emerged from findings: The adolescent antecedents of adult smoking are markedly different for men and women; there are substantial differences in personality of youngsters associated with different levels of smoking, and some but not all of these differences persisted two decades later.

The boys who remained nonsmokers initially were rather unassertive, said the report. But they "had high motivation to achieve and relatively high need for recognition."

Clausen said the girls who continued as nonsmokers were extremely conventional and unassuming in their formative years. They were not strongly motivated to achieve academic and social success and were less popular than girls who smoked.

Parental smoking had more influence on the tobacco habits of girls than boys, according to the Clausen analysis. Boys who took up smoking did so because of pressure exerted by their contemporaries, the professor said.

Clausen noted that the subjects of the Oakland group began smoking during the late 30s and early 40s—years of depression and war. Those periods of stress, he said, helped lead to general acceptance of smoking.

The professor added that most individuals in the study group indicated they would like to stop smoking because of tobacco's health hazards.

Grand Jury Speeds Up Florida Death Trial

I-J Special Report

BUNNELL, Fla.—Preliminary hearing scheduled today for two men accused of killing James Stephen Moore of San Anselmo and a companion has been canceled following grand jury action.

Indictment by the grand jury made the lower court hearing unnecessary. No date has been set for trial of Norman Garrett, 26, and Armin Hayden, 21, charged with the fatal shooting of Moore and Daniel Shoultz of Bloomington, Ind., on Nov. 29.

Board Backs Citizens On Army Road

Marin County Board of Supervisors has indicated it will back property owners along Sunny Oak Drive in Santa Venetia who are refusing to help pay for upkeep of the road which provides access to the Nike Battery 93 control area.

Supervisors asked County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney to prepare a resolution opposing formation of a district to maintain the road and asking the Army to repair the roadway.

In November the Army asked property owners on the road to share costs with the U.S. government for maintenance. Last month property owners responded with 140 signatures opposing this.

The owners claim the heavy vehicles going to the Nike site are responsible for 95 per cent of the damage and that there was no problem with the roadway until the Army installation was in operation.

Residents haven't heard from the Army since they sent their protest. The original letter to the residents came from Creed B. Card, chief of real estate division of the Corps of Engineers, Sacramento.

He said maintenance and repair costs are not the sole responsibility of the government and future expenditures would be "limited to the extent required by the government."

Nixon Demands Halt In War Before Talks

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — Richard M. Nixon was quoted by the Richmond News Leader today as saying about the North Vietnamese: "We should not stop bombing if they start talking. We should only stop bombing if they stop fighting."

The former vice president also was quoted in the interview as saying "there is a chance the war could come to an end before the elections in November" but that it "is more likely to end by petering out rather than by negotiation."

With reference to his position on a bombing halt, Nixon said: "Many will say that's a hawk position, and if it's a hawk position, I should point out it's also a peace position . . . We must never forget that most of the American casualties in Korea occurred after talks began. We talked, and they continued to fight, and our hands were tied behind our back. We must not make that same mistake in South Vietnam."

Nixon said that if he becomes an announced candidate for the Republican presidential nomination, he has "determined . . . definitely to go down that long, hard road.

Arraignment In Bribe Case Set

David Green, 55-year-old Greenbrae contractor, is scheduled to be arraigned in Red Bluff Justice Court at 10 a.m. tomorrow on charges of attempting to bribe three Tehama County supervisors.

Judge Noel Watkins will set a preliminary hearing.

Green, of 70 Corte Dorado, is free on $30,000 bail. He is accused of trying to bribe the supervisors to vote for a vacation housing development.

Club Exonerated In Death Plot

Carl Buck of San Francisco, 23-year-old Hell's Angel, today exonerated the Gypsy Joker motorcycle club of any attempt to kill him.

Buck declared he was unaware of what he was saying Tuesday night, when he told the California Highway Patrol he was trying to escape death at the hands of the rival motorcycle group when hit by a car on Highway 101.

made 31 in 1967, he noted.

"By increasing their staff, they are making more arrests, he said. "They have more men on the road and more of them know what they're looking for."

The arrest increases do indicate more people are using marijuana and dangerous drugs, he said.

"It's just available. And it's received a lot of notoriety, particularly from those misinformed individuals who say it is not harmful. This has led to a number of our youths experimenting with marijuana," Stinson said.

The undersheriff pointed to a decrease in LSD arrests last year and attributed this to a nationwide crackdown on producers and sellers of the drug.

At the same time, though, there was an alarming increase in methedrine possession arrests, he said, "and this drug is far more dangerous than LSD."

SOURCE NOT FOUND

"There is no Mr. Big. The supplier may be someone who made a quick trip to Mexico. He buys a lid for $10 or $15 and then sells part of it to recoup his investment," he said.

With the increase of marijuana use among youngsters, Stinson said, deputies have noticed a decrease in arrests at the big teen-aged beer parties of two or three years ago.

"Less and less kids are fooling around with alcohol," he said.

'IT'S HARMFUL'

Stinson warned that "even occasional use of marijuana is harmful. No one is his proper mind would experiment with some of these dangerous drugs unless he had experience with marijuana or was under the influence of marijuana at the time he took these things."

ARREST DATA

Sheriff's office — 102 adults and 54 juveniles.

Corte Madera Grants Car Deck Variance

The Corte Madera Board of Adjustments last night approved the variance application by Roy Smith of 130 Marin View, Mill Valley, to build a car deck instead of a garage or carport at a new residence at 321 Summit Drive, Corte Madera.

Board officials said the site involved is steep terrain.

Foot Clinic Permit Due County Study

A specialist in foot treatment wants to build a podiatric clinic, hospital and convalescent building in Santa Venetia near the Jewish Community Center.

The request for a use permit, by Dr. R. J. Tikker of 1244 Fifth Avenue, San Rafael, will come before county zoning administrator Thomas E. Cordill tomorrow at 10 a.m. in Civic Center.

The site is 1.76 acres of the south side of North San Pedro Road just west of Meriam Drive.

Dr. Tikker proposes three buildings, staffed by a maximum of five doctors and 10 miscellaneous employees. The hospital will have a capacity for 12 patients and the convalescent building a capacity for 10 patients.

At 9:30 a.m. Cordill will hear a variance request by Thomas F. Ziegler, who wants to build a guest house as the second story of a detached garage at 910 Butterfield Road, San Anselmo.

would be only $30. From then on, the fees would go up, depending on income. Those with an income of more than $50,000 would pay $630 a year more. Those with an income of between $12,000 and $13,000 a year would pay $105.

At present, University students pay an incidental fee of $219 for an academic year, plus fees on separate campuses for such services as parking. State college fees vary from roughly $80 a year to more than $100.

REGENTS MEETING

At Berkeley, the regents began two days of meetings today on the U.C. campus amid speculation they might consider hiking students fees as favored by Reagan.

The fee issue is not listed on the agenda. But in anticipation it would come up, Thomas L. Pitts, secretary of the California Labor Federation, urged the regents to reject any increase.

Three regent committees met today—prior to a fulldress session of the board tomorrow which Reagan, an ex-officio member, is expected to attend. It was just a year ago that Reagan, attending his first session, brought up his proposal tuition at the university. The stormy meeting ended in the firing of President Clark Kerr, an opponent of tuition.

Screaming Death Mystery Strikes Second Sister

SANTA MARIA, Calif. (AP) — Five years apart, two sisters died mysteriously in the same, sudden way: They looked around horrified, screamed piercingly for 10 seconds, then stopped breathing.

Police said Army Staff Sgt. Robert Rush told them yesterday that his wife, Patricia, 23, woke him about 6 a.m., screamed and collapsed.

Officials waited today for autopsy results.

Mrs. Rush's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Stephens of nearby San Luis Obispo, told newsmen that in 1963 their daughter Beverly, 17, emerged from a swimming pool and died in the same way. An autopsy failed to disclose a cause of death.

Soviets Issue New Cambodia Warning

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet government warned the United States today against violating Cambodia's frontiers, saying it "will not remain indifferent to such a development of events."

The statement, which Tass said the Soviet Embassy in Washington delivered to the State Department several days ago, did not say what action the Soviet government might take. Presumably it would do no more to defend Cambodia than it has done to defend North Vietnam.

No Americans Killed In Sicily Earthquakes

PALERMO, Sicily (AP) — The known death toll in western Sicily's earthquakes neared 400 today, but U.S. Embassy men from Rome said they have found no evidence of any Americans killed or injured.

The quakes Monday wrecked a dozen towns and villages, injured more than 1,500 persons, and hundreds are still missing.

The hilly inland region is seldom visited by tourists, but the embassy in Rome sent a special staff to help the Palermo consulate handle the hundreds of queries from the United States about Americans or relatives possibly in the area.

Rescue teams, jittery from the shock of 32 tremors which followed the devastating quakes, continued poking under rubble and found two survivors yesterday, still breathing after nearly 60 hours of confinement.

The island's major problem remained getting food, medicine, tents and blankets to an estimated 40,000 refugees preparing to spend a fourth night in the open. They were spread in small encampments throughout the western tip of the island, with only about 3,000 tents for shelter.

"We need bread. Money is useless to us because all the shops are closed or in ruins," one refugee complained. Later, 32 tons of bread and 100 tons of pasta were flown to the island.

Nuclear Weapons Pact Ready

GENEVA (AP) — The United States and the Soviet Union have reached agreement on a completed draft of a treaty to halt the spread of nuclear weapons, authoritative Western sources reported today.

The completed draft, including an article on international controls previously in dispute, is to be submitted to the 17-nation disarmament conference when it goes back to work later today after a Christmas recess.

It was believed that the Soviet-American agreement on controls would result in acceptonce of the treaty by West Germany, Italy and other members of the Common Market except France.

But India's position, believed the key to acceptance of the treaty by most neutral and nonaligned nations, remains that the draft document does not clamp down hard enough on nations that already have nuclear weapons.

If the Indians refuse to sign, Pakistan almost certainly will refuse also. It is believed this will encourage Israel to hold back, and then none of the Arab countries would sign.

The U.N. General Assembly, which is to reconvene in the spring, has asked the conference to try to have a complete draft treaty ready by March 15.

Americans Favor Heart Donations

PRINCETON, N.J. (UPI)—A Gallup Poll released yesterday indicates seven out of every 10 adult Americans would be willing to donate their hearts for transplant operations.

According to the poll, this represents about 80 million of the nation's adult population of 114 million who would donate their hearts and other vital organs to medical science upon their deaths.

San Rafael Home Looted Of Jewelry

Jewelry, radios and tools valued at $500 were stolen from the home of Donald R. Swing at 135 Fairhills Drive, San Rafael, police reported yesterday.

The theft was discovered at 5 p.m. Monday, said police. Entry was gained through a sliding door and the thieves carted off the loot in a pillowcase.

Cuba Claims U.S. Flier Shot Down

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — An American citizen identified as an ex-paratrooper who tried to sneak into Cuba in a private plane with a gun and cameras has been shot down, the Cuban radio said today.

The radio said the plane was shot down over the Bay of Cadiz at 6:30 p.m. Dec. 29 by antiaircraft guns as it "infiltrated" Cuban territory.

Jackson had dropped a parachute package containing a carbine rifle, 200 bullets, maps, cameras with telephoto lenses and a set of binoculars, the broadcast said.

The Coast Guard in Miami said it had no report of a missing plane matching the description given of Jackson's plane. The Federal Aviation Administration in Miami said its reports on missing aircraft were not available.

The broadcast said the pilot was shot down north of the Central Cuba city of De Rancho Veloz and the plane fell on an island called "Falcon's Key."

"The pilot was captured by forces of the interior minister," the broadcast said.

The newscast said Jackson identified himself as a former member of the 82nd and 101st Airborne units, who had served in Germany with the 11th Division.

Youth Is Caught With Marijuana At Marin School

A 14-year-old Tamalpais High School student was caught smoking marijuana on the school campus Jan. 9, the juvenile division of the Marin Sheriff's office reported yesterday.

When discovered with a lit marijuana cigarette, the Mill Valley boy turned over three more cigarettes and a bag full of marijuana, school authorities reported.

He told Henry Marshall, dean of boys at the high school, that he bought the marijuana from a man in Sausalito and had been smoking it for about two months.

The boy was suspended from school for the rest of the year and cited to juvenile probation officers for the county.

A BOY'S LOYALTY TESTED

Men always have cringed when asked to don a dress for a wifely seamstress, but Andrew Stanley, 7, of West Covina (Los Angeles County) thinks things have gone too far. His mother, Mrs. Cliff Stanley, had him model her wig while she styled it. The youthful victim obviously wonders what will happen when his pals hear of this.

Mayors Council Eyes Bay Government Role

The Marin Council of Mayors and Councilmen bestirred itself last night to play a role in Bay Area super-government discussions.

Chairman Neil R. Brixon appointed a committee of seven to frame the cities' stand on what is needed and not needed in regional rule.

"At this stage of the game nobody has done anything," contended Mayor Earl J. O'Grady of Brixon's home town of Larkspur.

The committee named last night at the council's monthly meeting at Alta Mira Hotel in Sausalito will represent the cities group at a hearing of the Joint Legislative Committee on Bay Area Regional Government on Feb. 16 at the Marin Civic Center. It will meet next Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. in the San Rafael City Hall to formulate its presentation.

Brixon said what is wanted is a multi-entity approach to open space requirements, and expressions on the physical strains, advantages and disadvantages connected with this.

One "no" was heard in the voice vote approving the motion of Mayor J. Wayne Womack of Novato to create the committee.

Named to it were Mayors Albert E. White of Mill Valley, Arthur W. Smith of Sausalito, C. Paul Bettini of San Rafael, Edward W. Colthurst of Corte Madera and Frederick S. Allen of Ross, and Councilmen Sally Matthews of Belvedere and Robert Sousa of Fairfax.

Participation in the super-government hearing may mark the beginning of greater activity by the council of mayors if a suggestion made last night by Brixon is followed. He proposed for discussion at the next meeting, Feb. 14 at the Dock in Tiburon: "Are we to continue as a monthly discussion group or do we want to take an active part in these things that are coming up?"

If the latter, suggested Brixon, the council should create an executive committee to make possible more rapid responses in matters affecting local governments in the area.

The council heard Police Chief Edward Kreins describe recruitment and training methods of the Sausalito Police Department.

Kreins said psychiatric examinations of candidates for police appointments, which he originally opposed, have proved valuable to the department, as has in-service psychiatric counseling for those officers who want it. Sausalito pays a psychiatrist to give regular service to the police department.

Kreins also got off the evening's biggest laugh-provoker when he opened his talk by saying.

"I'd like to thank all those people who gave up two of the greatest TV comedies of the year — Jonathan Winters and President Johnson — to attend this meeting."

Baby Sitters' Class Tonight

The classes will be held for four consecutive Thursday evenings at 7 p.m.

Firemen Ralph Craven and Albert Anderson will give instructions on various phases of home safety, fire prevention, first aid and other emergency procedures like resuscitation.

School Districts Group Discusses Bond Problems

Members of the Marin County Committee on School District Organization last night discussed Assembly Bill 1801, which will affect the bonded indebtedness of a unified school district.

The bill provides that, if the issue of the bonded indebtedness is not included in a successful unification election, then the county board of supervisors shall levy a tax on the assessed valuation of the reorganized district to pay for the bonds, according to Charles E. McCully, deputy superintendent of schools.

The law now requires the leveling of outstanding bonds in the district to be voted on in a unification election.

Further study of the complex provisions of the bill will be scheduled for the committee's February meeting, McCully said.

General, 11 Others Killed In North Dakota Crash

MINOT, N.D. (AP) — A two-star general and eight other Air Force officers were among 12 persons killed yesterday when a huge Air Force tanker plane crashed on takeoff from fog-shrouded Minot Air Force Base. There was one survivor.

An Air Force investigating team sought the cause of the crash of the KC 135, a military version of the Boeing 707.

The seven crewmen and six passengers were from March Air Force Base near Riverside.

Maj. Gen. Charles M. Eisenhart, 53, vice commander of the 15th Air Force, died when the plane burst into flames upon impact around 9 a.m. An explosion followed, spewing bodies and parts of the plane more than 1,000 feet in several directions.

The death list also included three colonels, three lieutenant colonels, a major, a captain and three enlisted men.

The survivor was T. Sgt. William G. Wright, 34, the plane's steward.

Wright was taken to John Moses Hospital in Minot, 14 miles south of the Strategic Air Command base in north central North Dakota. He suffered burns over 70 to 80 per cent of his body and was reported in critical condition.

The Air Force said three Californians died in the crash. They were: Col. Jack A. Mercer, Atwater; Lt. Col. Clifford V. McConico, Long Beach, and Col. William H. Davidson, Whittier.

A brown bear isn't always brown. It may be blackish in color and sometimes has white on its chest.

WANTS DEPUTY, NURSE

Novato Man Fears Trouble At Hearing

Novato property owner Paul Brindel is asking for sheriff's protection when he appears at the Civic Center tomorrow at 10:30 a.m. to ask the county zoning administrator to approve a building site near Maestro Road and Wilson Avenue in Novato.

Among neighbors who are opposing his building site are several "adverse witnesses who have in the past exhibited emotional instability," said Brindel.

Brindel did not identify the adverse witnesses, but explained "they have a low boiling point."

"Why should I have to conduct a hearing under this type of threat?" said Bridel. "I'm going to be 73 on Wednesday, and I'm living on borrowed time. Why should I have to put up with any rough stuff?"

Brindel also asked County Health Officer Carolyn Albrecht for a nurse to be present because of his age and poor health. He said Dr. Albrecht would contact Dr. Michael Scholl, county medical director, who has an office in the Civic Center.

Brindel wants to build a home on his 17,198 square foot lot, which has no frontage on any street, but does have a 20-foot right of way easement to Maestro Road. His request will come before Zoning Administrator Thomas E. Crodill in the planning department conference room in the Civic Center.

Last Monday the zoning administrator noted that a portion of the lot was created illegally, and several septic tank failures have occurred in the area. Cordill said he would deny the request unless Brindel comes up with new evidence tomorrow.

Brindel said he has not received a reply from the sheriff. "But now, if something happens, at least the sheriff is on notice," said Brindel.

Garrison Denies Oral Deposition

NEW ORLEANS (UPI)—Dist. Atty. Jim Garrison, investigating the assassination of President Kennedy, yesterday would not accept the oral deposition of a California man subpoenaed to testify at the Orleans Parish County Grand Jury in connection with the probe.

Assistant Dist. Atty. James Alcock said Garrison's office believes an oral deposition offered by Loran E. Hall might be made public, thus jeopardizing the Kennedy assassination inquiry.

"A deposition is a civil instrument," Alcock said. "It cannot be used in criminal proceedings before a grand jury."

Runaway Auto Kills Mother

PALO ALTO (AP) — Mrs. Gregory Spokes, 28, wife of a Stanford Research Institute scientist, was killed yesterday when a runaway car crashed into a bench where she was watching her young son play at the Palo Alto Duck Pond.

The boy, Jeffrey, 4, was shoved into the water by the auto, but escaped with a minor scalp cut.

Three bystanders leaped into the pond fully clothed to rescue the boy, and the driver of the car, Mrs. Lizzie Drake, 50, and her daughter, Linda.

Mrs. Drake told police she was taking her daughter to the pond to feed the ducks and had slowed her car looking for a parking space when her foot slipped and hit the accelerator.

Murder Trial Jury Chosen

SUSANVILLE (UPI) — A Superior Court jury of seven women and five men was impaneled yesterday to hear the murder trial of Robert Tidwell, 18, accused of a triple slaying.

The panel was selected after Judge Stanley Arnold dismissed 40 prospective jurors.

Tidwell, Redding, brother of convicted murderer William Tidwell Jr., 21, was charged with shooting and stabbing Leroy and Jeannette DeForest at their Lassen County ranch home Aug. 4. A third victim, Keith Utterback, 44, Hoopa, was found slain in the DeForest car.

The older Tidwell was convicted of the murders last month and sentenced to death.

Philosophy, Economics Of Signs Debated In San Rafael Session

Signs, a prominent feature on the face of a city, can project an image of the city itself.

San Rafael planning commissioners pondered this thought last night at a meeting with sign business representatives on revision of the city's sign ordinance.

Planning Director Herbert G. Hotchner urged commissioners to consider "what image they want to project" before the details of a new ordinance are thrashed out.

WIDE RANGE

There is a wide range from sedate Carmel where streets are free of signs to lively San Francisco, where brightly lighted signs flash, scintillate and rotate.

Hotchner urged commissioners to determine which direction they intend to go.

Chairman Fred C. Robbins Jr. said, "We're not a Carmel and any restrictions and regulations along that line would be out of keeping. I envision going ahead with modern, attractive, well-designed signs that give a maximum of advertisement in keeping with neatness, compactness and pleasantness."

'I LIKE SIGNS'

"I like signs," said Commissioner Carl S. Brown. Signing downtown makes a city."

Sign industry representatives stressed the economic value of signs.

Carroll A. Snyker, manager of the Marin County Chamber of Commerce and Visitors Bureau, speaking as an individual, urged commissioners to remember the county's objective to gain revenue from tourism.

Signs are very important to certain businesses, such as motels and restaurants, he said. "They have to have sufficient signs to accomplish their purpose."

Without mentioning a firm name, Snyker said one of the larger motel chains surveyed Marin, and "one of the factors bugging them is they didn't feel they could get adequate signs."

Hotchner said the city doesn't have to regulate every type of sign. The signs that receive the most attention are rooftop, free-standing, projecting and billboards, he noted.

BALANCE NEEDED

The commission has been permitting illuminated signs, but not flashing, revolving, animated or moving, he said.

In setting controls, the commission should consider the objectives of the controls, Hotchner said. "What are we protecting?" he said. The commission should balance "the value created to the public against the disadvantage to those who use and sell signs," he advised.

Rad Ingram, representing Marin Sign Co. and the Marin Sign Contractors Association, said, "Our main problem is expediting a permit."

Sign company representatives favored an ordinance so definite that the majority of permits could be cleared at the city planning office, with only exceptional cases going to the commission.

'NEBULOUS CRITERIA'

Applicants have complained they "have no basis for knowing what kind of a sign is okay until they stand before the commission, "Hotchner said. "I hope we can replace this nebulous set of criteria with something spelled out so the public can know what is permitted."

There were no proposals for revisions made at the session, the first in a series of study sessions by the commission to discuss revisions to the city zoning ordinance.

Commissioners adjourned until their next regular meeting Tuesday and set Feb. 7 for continuation of study of the sign ordinance, particularly signs in residential areas.

Hotchner and representatives of the sign business are scheduled to meet Feb. 14 at City Hall to draw up some proposed revisions to be presented to commissioners.

Commissioner Thomas R. O'Toole was absent.

School To Larger Quarters In March

The Alpha-bet School at 1509 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, San Anselmo will be moved to larger facilities at 333 Woodland Avenue, San Rafael early in March.

Owner-director Mrs. Anthony Barbera said she has been renting the San Rafael premises for her school since September and will consolidate classes there. Bus service will be available, according to Mrs. Barbera.

Girl Reports Purse Robbery During Stroll

An 18-year-old San Rafael girl was attacked by a strongarm robber as she strolled across the College of Marin campus Sunday afternoon, Marin Sheriff's deputies revealed today.

Patricia Stephanie Lough of 108 Greenwood Avenue, San Rafael, said a young man came up from behind and grabbed her around the neck while he strained to grab her purse.

The seams of the purse split, she said, spilling the contents over the ground. She screamed and her assailant ran to his bicycle and pedaled off.

Miss Lough said the incident occurred near the campus biology lab. The man was aged 18-20, six feet tall and slender, she said. He had brown hair and wore a dark overcoat and trousers.

Sheriff's deputies noted that a man of a similar description attacked a coed on the campus about three months ago.

Anti-Draft Professor To Custodial Brigade

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (UPI) —A history professor who won deferment as a conscientious objector has been given a job swabbing floors at a medical school. Angry University of Maryland students vowed today to demonstrate.

Noel Brann, 30, an assistant professor at the graduate level, received a notice Monday from his local draft board in Reno, Nev., which said:

CUSTODIAL JOB

"In the maintenance of the national health, safety or interest, you have been assigned to janitorial or custodial work at the University of Kansas Medical Center."

"Vindictive," retored Brann's wife Anne. "It's a punishment, rather than in the interest of national welfare."

NOEL BRANN
Mopping duties

Brann, who refused military service as a conscientious objector and turned in his draft card, charged yesterday the Selective Service System is being used to "repress opposition to the Vietnam war."

Brann, who has an IQ of about 175 and was called "brilliant" by one of his students, said draft board action against antiwar protesters was a blatant "manipulation of the people of our society."

BURNS CARD

Brann took a student deferment, 2S, while in college, which made him technically eligible for the draft until he was 35. His classification before he went to college was 1-0 as a conscientious objector. After leaving college at the age of 27, he resumed his 1-0 classification.

Brann said he was working to try to end the Vietnam war, and added he was convinced the Selective Service System was being used to repress opposition to the Vietnam war.

Brann received his doctorate from Stanford University in 1965 and his bachelor of arts degree from Antioch College in 1960.

He taught at Vassar College last year and came to the University of Maryland this year on a three-year contract with a starting salary of $9,400.

Smog Control Controversy Marks Time

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare recessed its hearing yesterday on whether the State of California can have more stringent smog laws than the rest of the nation.

HEW hearing officer S. Smith Griswold, associate director of the National Center for Air Pollution Control, agreed to hold the record open for 30 days as requested by California and the auto industry.

Griswold said if further hearings were held, they would take place in Los Angeles.

The hearing, which started Monday, is to determine whether Cadifornia can have its own smog standards, which are more stringent than those provided by the National Air Control Act.

The federal law authorizes the HEW secretary to waive requirements for California if that state's standards sprang from compelling extraordinary conditions, are more stringent than federal standards, and are technologically feasible and enforceable.

No Supermen Soon To Leap Out Of Labs

STANFORD (UPI) — Creation of life in a test tube does not mean that biochemists are on the verge of producing supermen, according to a Nobel Prize winner from Stanford University.

Joshua Lederberg, director of the Kennedy Laboratories for Molecular Medicine at Stanford, told newsmen yesterday that both politicians and the public should "get past the stage of throwing up their hands in awe and horror" at such developments as the creation of a living virus.

Scientists at Stanford recently announced that they had created DNA capable of reproducing itself, in a virus-like form. DNA is a key genetic substance.

Lederberg, commenting on congressional suggestions for an ethical code governing applications of new scientific discoveries, said the most immediate applications of the discovery would probably come in "repairing obvious defects in man."

However, he added:

"One of the last things we're likely to be able to do in human experimental biology is to point to a given gene in a given sperm and produce a change in that location from one quality to another.

"I'm not saying it'll never happen, but there are many other things that are likely to happen first. We might even have peace in the world, for example."

U.C. HEALTH STUDY

Marijuana Claimed Safer Than Alcohol

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Marijuana is a lesser health hazard than alcohol, according to University of California medical researchers who suggest laws governing its use be brought "into concordance with the dangers inherent in the drug."

"It must be acknowledged that the brief duration of action and low potency of available marijuana preparations and its freedom from the nutritional side effects of alcohol do indeed suggest a lesser hazard in the use of marijuana," the report said.

"A very immediate need is to bring the penalties for the possession or use of marijuana into concordance with the dangers inherent in the drug, rather than maintaining the position that it is equivalent in its hazards to heroin," the report added.

The report was written by U.C. medical reseachers for the state Legislature, which is reviewing antidrug laws.

The report, released yesterday, said state laws which make penalties for use and possession of marijuana equally severe felonies as for heroin threaten "to further alienate an entire generation and destroy respect for all laws regulating the use of drugs."

"Its present legal classification as a narcotic comparable to heroin appears to be unsupported by any authority outside of the enforcement area," the report said.

The university researchers noted "the feeling that drug abuse is purely a criminal matter appears to be less tenaciously held as the size of the problem increases and the general citizenry sees their own children involved."

Problems with drugs such as marijuana "are quantitatively much less important than alcoholism," said the researchers, who suggested the establishment of a bureau within the Department of Public Health similar to the Bureau of Alcoholism to provide information on drugs.

"A quite startling number of young people have had experience with marijuana and recognize the inaccuracy of some claims," the report said.

The researchers said the "punitive approach to problems of drug abuse followed for the past few years has obviously not prevented the increased use of marijuana, LSD and other drugs.

ARTHUR W. WOODS
Gallantry rewarded

Hero Award To Novatan In Vietnam

An Air Force mechanic from Novato, who rescued several men from a Viet Cong attack, has been awarded the Silver Star in Vietnam.

Sgt. Arthur W. Woods, 22, was cited for "extraordinary gallantry" during a rocket, mortar and recoiless rifle assault on the Bien Hoa Air Base May 12, 1967.

The Air Force said Woods, a jet mechanic with the 90th Tactical Fighter Squadron, was working on a flight line when the attack occurred.

He dashed for a bunker, but heard a friend call he had been hit and returned to help. Woods gave first aid to the seriously wounded man, then ran 150 yards to get a jeep to pick him up.

Once the wounded man was placed in a hospital, Woods drove around the flight line picking up more wounded airmen.

Woods, a graduate of San Rafael High School, is a grandson of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Azevedo of 494 Via Herbosa. He was presented the Silver Star in Vietnam by Gen. John D. Ryan, commander in chief of Pacific Air Forces.

'Citizen Of Year' Honors To Shone

Raymond H. Shone, San Rafael attorney, civic worker, and former grand president of the Native Sons of the Golden West, was named radio KABL "Marin Citizen of the Year" at a dinner last night at the St. Francis Hotel in San Francisco.

Presentation of the award to Shone was by Ernest N. Kettenhofen, chairman of the Marin County Board of Supervisors.

New Sausalito Waterfront Sketch Viewed

A new sketch plan for the Sausalito central waterfront area was presented last night to the Sausalito Planning Commission, but the commission could not act because no quorum was present.

The meeting opened with a quorum of five, but commissioner Walter Thomson was called from the meeting shortly after 10 p.m.

Last night's sketch plan was a composite developed by commissioner Norman Murdoch from earlier presentations. Earlier plans varied in the amount of proposed land purchase by the city for public uses.

Before losing its quorum, the commission acted on two applications and split on a third.

The commission denied a proposal by Milton Delaney to establish a flower shop at 113 Second Street on the ground the use is not allowed in the neighborhood commercial district.

The commission recommended the council approve an encroachment permit sought by Dick York for a house to be built between Woodward Avenue and Marie Street, subject to landscaping approval.

The commission voted 3-2 to deny a request by the Trident restaurant to cover part of its deck, which would further exceed the allowed building coverage limit on the lot. A majority of five votes was needed for action, however, and the Trident application was held over to Feb. 7.

The commission lost its quorum before discussion began on the preliminary regional plan recently announced by the Association of Bay Area Governments. No action was taken.

Commissioners absent were Hendrik Keizer, Murdoch and Roy A Starbird. Chairman Alan D. Bonapart recently resigned, leaving eight members.

The wahoo, a streamlined relative of the tuna, is reputed to be the fastest fish in the ocean, capable of speeds of more than 48 miles per hour, says the Miami Seaquarium.

Killing-Kidnap Suspect Asks Judges Removal

UKIAH (AP)—Leonard Maine, 19, one of two men charged with murder of a Ukiah youth and abduction of his girl companion, has filed an affidavit of disqualification against Superior Court Judge Wayne P. Burke.

Trial of Maine and his codefendant, Thomas E. Braun, 19, in the killing of Timothy Luce, 17, and the abducting of Susan Diane Bartolomei, is set for next Monday. The girl was left for dead on a mountain road near Sonora.

Maine's affidavit was filed yesterday through his attorney John Poulos. Judge Robert T. Winslow had been disqualified earlier.

Young Luce, son of the Lake County district attorney, and Miss Bartolomei, were picked up while hitchhiking toward Ukiah after their car had broken down near Hopland. Luce was found shot to death on a road near Ukiah; the girl was found shot five times in her head and neck.

She is now in the University of California Medical Center in San Francisco.

Both Maine and Braun are from eastern Washington and have been charged with killings there and in Oregon.

Tahoe Studies Planning Rules

SOUTH LAKE TAHOE (AP) — The Lake Tahoe Regional Commission received what was called a new concept in subdivision planning yesterday from its technical advisory committee.

Chairman Ray Smith said emphasis is on total lake environment—instead of units of the lake area, such as present subdivision planning.

"Every future subdivision and land development would have to be done on a high-class, detailed level — no maps on the back of envelopes," Smith said

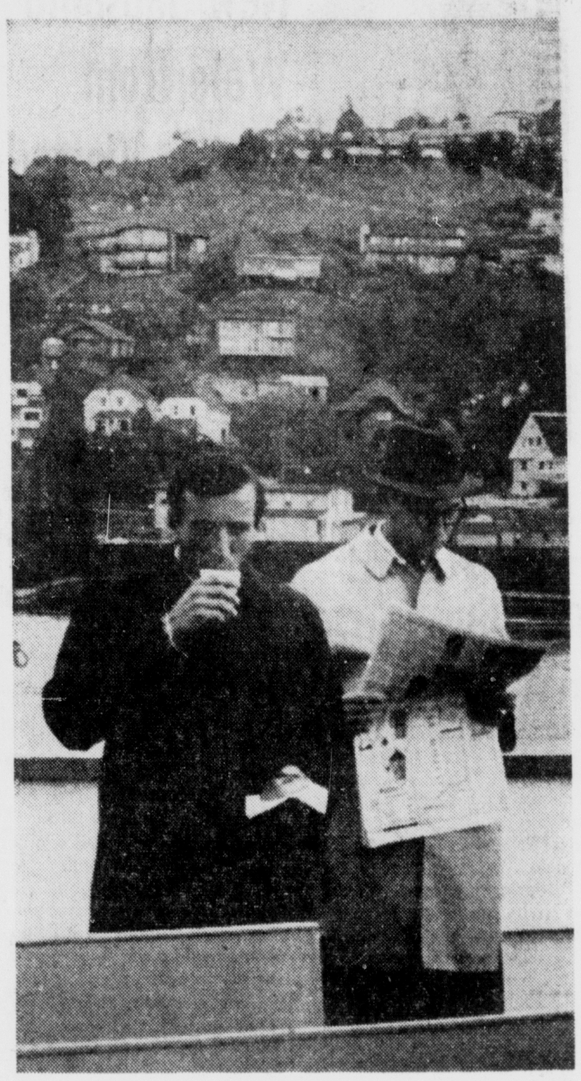
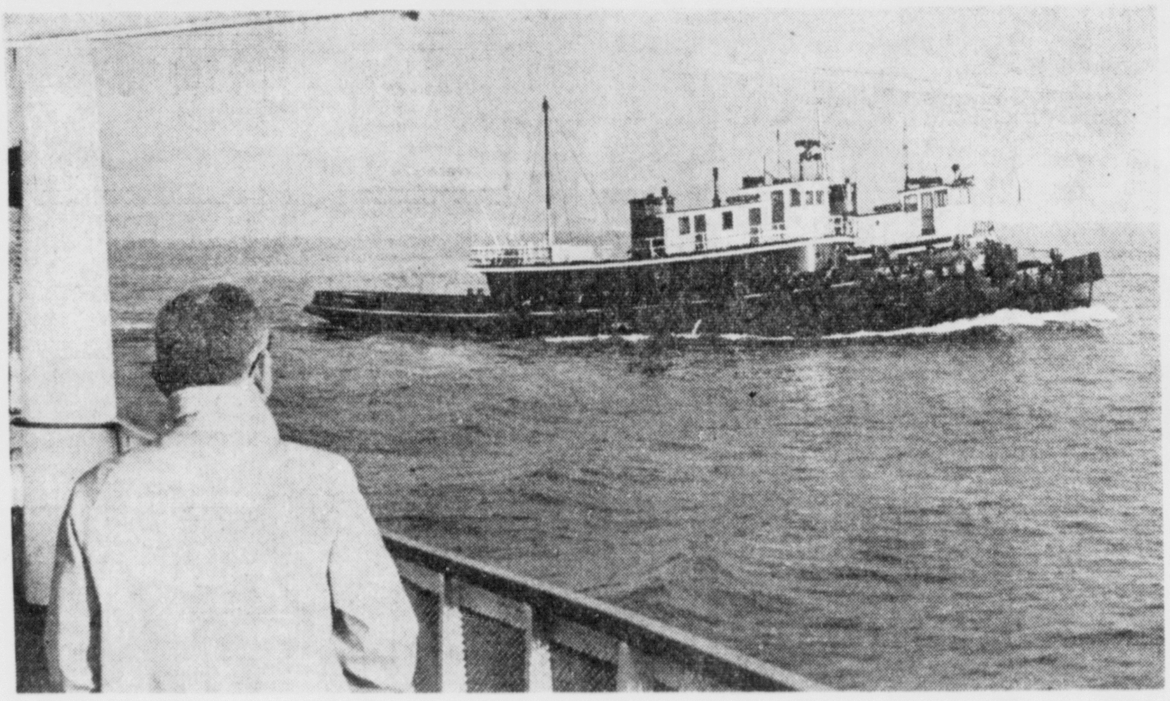
Boat Ride To Work

IT'S EARLY — Her lights still on, the Harbor Queen lies in calm waters at a Tiburon dock before taking Marin County commuters to San Francisco.

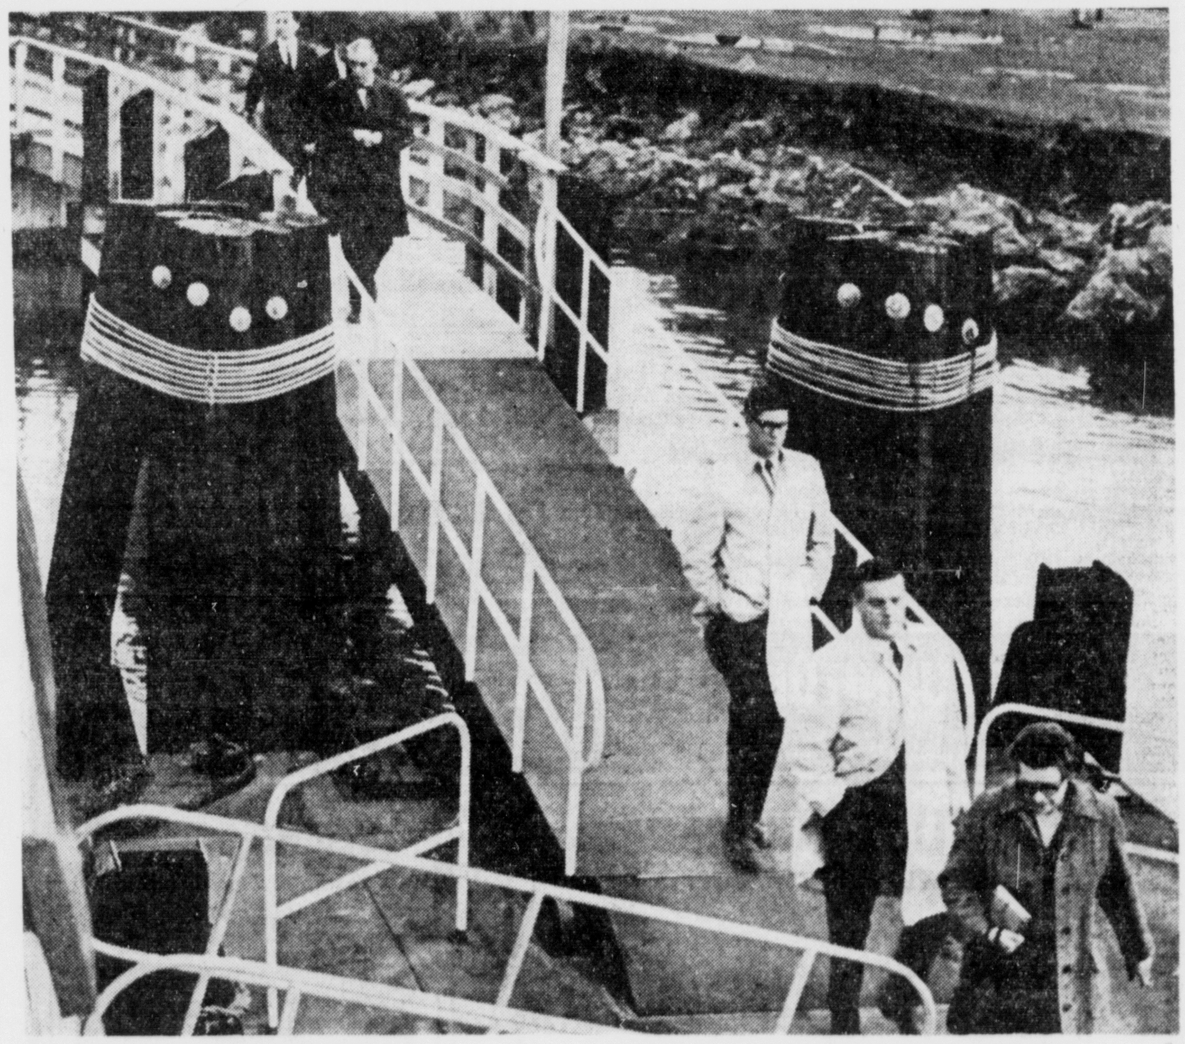
INSIDE — About 200 persons are ferried to San Francisco each day. This commuter stays inside and reads a magazine because it's cold.



OUTSIDE — As the ferry leaves Tiburon, coffee and a bun stimulate one rider while another checks the news. The ride takes 35 minutes.



NO CONGESTION — Traffic on San Francisco Bay is light. A commuter, his upturned collar shielding the wind, watches two tugs.



BOARDING — The ferry leaves Tiburon at 7:30 a.m. daily. A one-way ride costs 80 cents and a book good for 10 round-trips sells for $13.50. The homeward run is at 5:30 p.m.

BRIDGE GAME — The ferry has card tables, and Bob Howard of Belvedere (left) and Richard Card of Tiburon use one for bridge.

PLUMBERS DECIDE TO WED

Ralph Francis explained why he had been a confirmed bachelor for so long: "I never met anybody before I thought I could get along with until I met Rose." With that, Francis, 86, took for his bride in Sacramento yesterday, Rose Earl, 81. Their friendship spans 50 years. An interesting note: both are retired plumbers. (AP Wirephoto)

Revenue Help Picture Bleak

SACRAMENTO (AP) — California cities and counties may have to wait until 1969 before the Legislature acts on any long-term, direct aid for their reported revenue gap.

Two Assembly committees ended hearings yesterday on the gap between expected income and the cost of maintaining services over the next four years. The total deficit report by cities and counties was about $1.6 billion.

"Maybe we can provide some assistance as we go along this session," said Chairman John T. Knox, D-Richmond, of the Assembly Municipal and County Government Committee. Knox chaired the two-day joint hearing of his committee and the Assembly Revenue and Taxation Committee.

But he said the study would continue this year, including additional hearings. Knox said a final recommendation probably wouldn't be ready until the 1969 legislative session.

The committees also will wait to see how Gov. Ronald Reagan's tax reform program will affect cities and counties, Knox said.

Legislative Analyst A. Alan Post told the hearing yesterday that local tax receipts aren't keeping pace with the growth of personal incomes.

He also said that local governments are paying more for services, which in turn can't produce in the same way private businesses manufacture goods. More than one half of government costs are for employee wages and benefits, designed to keep pace with private business, Post said.

Poll Indicates California GOP Favoring Rockefeller

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The State Poll indicated today that California voters believe New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller the strongest possible Republican presidential candidate. He is the only Republican leading an increasingly popular President Johnson.

Fifty-four per cent of those responding to the poll published in the Los Angeles Times favored Rockefeller over Johnson. Johnson received 37 per cent. Nine per cent was undecided.

Johnson was ahead of other possible GOP candidates — Michigan Gov. George Romney, Richard M. Nixon, Sen. Charles Percy and Gov. Reagan — by 7 to 14 percentage points.

A third of California Democrats polled indicated they would cross party lines and vote for Rockefeller.

Abbe Lane, Infant Doing 'Just Fine'

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Spokesmen at Cedars of Lebanon Hospital said singer Abbe Lane was "just fine" after giving birth yesterday to an 8-pound, 6-ounce boy.

Miss Lane and her husband, talent agent Perry Leff, also have an adopted son, Andrew, 2.

Presley To Do Special For TV

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Elvis Presley will do his first television show since 1960 for the National Broadcasting Co. next year, the company announced yesterday.

NBC Vice President Thomas W. Sarnoff revealed plans for a Presley special to the Memphis Commercial-Appeal. Sarnoff said the program will be produced by Bob Finkel, executive producer of the Jerry Lewis Show.

The Presley special will be broadcast during the holiday season of 1969, either Thanksgiving, Christmas or New Year's Week.

Diagnosing Johnny's Problem Takes Professional Teamwork

By BARBARA HOSMER

Because they care enough to give Problem-Johnny the best start possible on his life, a dedicated handful of physicians, educators and psychologists formed the team that has established Marin's own center to help children overcome learning and development problems.

The non-profit Child Center's staff gives referred youngsters the total diagnostic testing by education specialists, neurologist, pediatrician, psychiatrist, psychologist and speech therapist needed to identify his difficulties.

That's what goes on the one roof of the modest white frame house signed "Child Center" at the corner of Sir Francis Drake Blvd. and Alta Mira Way in Kentfield.

When the child is tested by each professional for problems in his specialty area, a total evaluation is made. Then parents come in for a conference on their child's needs; teacher and education specialists at the school begin to act upon the Child Center staff recommendations and any private professional care needed is begun.

But the Child Center people don't quit. They maintain close communication with parents and teachers and follow up every child's progress so that a total sustained effort by the community is made to give him the help he needs for a successful life.

Chief movers in opening such a center in Marin were pediatrician Dr. E. Muriel Bennett, and psychologist Keith E. Beery, Ph.D.

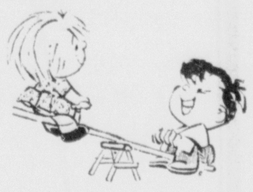
"WE HAD THE idea from years of experience in which we could see the need for better, closer communication among the professionals evaluating the children, the schools and the parents," Dr. Bennett explains. "And we could see the need for an organization of investigation and close follow-up.

"Before we had to use the facilities at University of California Medical Center, Children's Hospital or the Cerebral Palsy School for examinations. But that meant miles and psychological distances between the evaluators in San Francisco and here. As a pediatrician I got reports back but I couldn't really implement them."

Dr. Beery and Dr. Bennett began planning and the Child Center was opened in February, 1966.

"We saw our first child that July," Dr. Bennett said. The past year the staff has had about one new case per week, all from professional referrals, family doctor, school or agencies.

The youngest child was two and a half and the oldest 13. But since the idea is preventive the staff would like at least two-thirds of the children tested to be under age nine so that they may gain help before they feel self-defeated.



"WE DON'T DO any actual treatment — but we see that it gets done," Muriel Bennett explained. "The schools have been most helpful and ingeneous in working with these kids."

It takes about six to eight weeks per child for the total staff evaluation of problem areas and the child's assets. Dr. Bennett said that the process could be done faster if the staff worked full time instead of the one day a week they do. Financing is the problem. Generally about 20 hours of a child's time is needed for the evaluation process.

When problem-Johnny is referred, Dr. Bennett checks with the referring person, school or agency to see why the Child Center can help and what they want answered. Then the parents are consulted and the family physician.

"Then we meet as a group with the teacher, principal, school psychologist and nurse, and special teachers to find out directly where they feel we can be of help," she said.

Special teacher Diane Wilkinson becomes responsible for the education part of the evaluation, checking with Johnny's teachers on methods, working directly with Johnny to check his basic reading, writing, spelling and thought process, math ability, his behavior and relation to other children and to authority figures.

DOES THE CHILD learn better with material he sees or hears, or by tracing? Testing the child in variable situations in the testing center improvised in the kitchen of the homey little cottage defines Johnny's problems and allows Mrs. Wilkinson to devise remedial techniques that may aid the boy. Meanwhile the neurologist and psychologist and others supply her with their reports so that she can use the information to try new ideas to discover a learning situation best for Johnny.

All the while Mrs. Wilkinson is in touch with the child's teacher, going to his school or having her visit the Child Center.

"Teachers always learn from each other," she points out, and her testing technique she keeps revising to improve the evaluating process. The focus gets sharper as they learn to zero in on the problems, Dr. Bennett remarked about the staff.

After Johnny's 20 hours of evaluation, the staff produces a report bearing on all of the child's problems with suggestions for remedial paths to be followed by teachers and possibly agencies, psychologist or physician.

Does it work? Uusally, to some degree.

Johnny's making it now at school, when a year ago his bizarre behavior and learning difficulty made his doctor and parents wonder if he could even fit into a regular kindergarten. With Child Center staff's recommendations, Johnny's school district attempted a highly individualized education program with aid of the advance information the center assembled. A conference with his parents gave them a more relaxed, hopeful outlook about their problem son, and psychiatric help was arranged for Johnny.

When the Child Center people followed up they "were happy to learn that his school and parents were delighted with Johnny's progress. After one year in the class for educationally handicapped he is functioning very well, is able to speak, enter into all activities and has begun basic academic skills."

TEAMWORK IS needed to aid such an atypical child, the center's staff believes. And its total evaluation process is an important step in replacing dismay at failure with confidence for Johnny, his parents and teachers.

Such evaluation centers are the answer for communities away from large city facilities to assist troubled children toward more normal lives, Dr. Bennett believes. Increasingly across the country such centers are opening, supported by their community, in an effort to prevent later, more lasting problem people.

At first supported by the founders, Marin's Child Center takes children of families who can pay partial costs and the Babcock Memorial fund will assist the non-profit center through July 1968.

"But it should be a community supported program, with patient fees helping, so that all children who need it can receive the center's help, Dr. Bennett said. "And we hope to get grants for research."

"WE ARE INTERESTED in establishing a model for other communities outside city centers to do what should and can be done on the local level. Kids lose a lot of time waiting in line at large medical centers and their highly skilled technicians should be dealing with the highly complicated problems, not the day to day problems which can be taken care of locally," she remarked.

The Marin Child Center has had a private membership campaign and is interested in gifts and private bequests.

"Each staffer would increase his time here as financial support increases and the need increases.

"We can meet the needs of Marin families indefinitely here if the money is available," Dr. Bennett said.

And she, and the others are optimistic.

"Young John is a child who might never have gotten out of the house, and now he has made tremendous progress — but you never know the outcome."

"USUALLY WE give the people around a child a new helpful view of him, especially his parents. You don't always take away his disability but people who work with him have a new feeling and can see his assets, too. "His mother's view of his school may turn from negative and angry to actually hopeful."

The center was started when its founders got to worrying over kids with problems who they saw in their daily professional work. Many, they say, are bright. But some are retarded.

"Diagnosis of retardation is the hardest to make and the hardest to accept, and very important.

"You have to set realistic goals for the child. Then the parents can accept the fact of retardation and work with it. And they feel relief," she said.

Today in a world with new ideas and techniques constantly coming, there is some hope for every child, the staff believes.

"Ours is a challenging atmosphere to work in. The disequilibrium is disturbing, but we do love the movement," Dr. Bennett summed up the staff feeling as she sat forward eagerly on the edge of the sofa in the living room of the center she helped to found.

People Around The Child Have A New Helpful View

DIAGNOSTIC TEACHER Mrs. Diane Wilkinson of the Child Center tests children's learning methods in the testing classroom set up in the kitchen of the cottage-center to point up problem areas of their learning. She is then able to devise more suitable learning methods, and meets with a child's teacher to discuss possible ideas for improving the child's school work. With prevention in mind, the Child Center began classes this week for parents to help head off problems their children may have when faced with formal school.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

'Mother Never Likes Kids I Like, Especially This One'–An Ex Con

DEAR HELEN:

My mother never likes the kids I like, especially this one guy. He's 24. I'm 18. I love him, but because of cheap gossip, my mother despises him. Mostly because he got a girl preg., and another who just says he did, but he says not. He was also in prison for two years for stealing, but he only got $7 in the hold-up.

He's terribly handsome and sweet. Why can't my mother be on my side? — N.M.H.

DEAR N:

She is.

Why don't you get smart? — H.

DEAR HELEN:

I hope those "Silent Friends" of the unhappy engaged girl speak up before it's too late.

I traveled the same street three years ago. Like this girl, I was not strong-willed and was afraid of my fiance. He was so overpowering that I wouldn't even carry on a conversation for fear I might say something he'd cut me down about. I was completely dominated; because all the wedding arrangements had been made I felt I couldn't let people down. I figured they were all on this side and I'd look like a complete fool if I changed my mind.

Luckily my parents saw what was happening. They called our priest and asked him to see me. I told them they were interfering, but I did talk to him, thank goodness.

I found I could pour out all my fears and dreads to him. Result: a broken engagement, returned gifts, cancelled wedding and a very relieved girl.

Just think, if somebody hadn't spoken up, I'd be a miserable, browbeaten frau, instead of the happy wife I now am. You see, I found the right guy soon after. — ALL FOR FRIENDS BECOMING INVOLVED

DEAR HELEN:

My father is almost billiard-bald. He shrugs it off and says, "Oh well, it's neat anyway," but I think he should get treatments or something. He'd look so much younger with hair. — BALDY'S HEIR

DEAR HEIR:

Perhaps your father has more important things on his mind — like the high cost and inconvenience of hair pieces or transplants. Believe me, there is no other effective treatment for baldness — and even those expensive transplants can fail. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

I've been going steady with a guy I've known for three years. Out of all those evenings, I have never learned anything about his past. All I know is he doesn't live with his real parents. Could this be the reason he refuses to talk about it?

He has never been in trouble and he's very nice. But my parents want to know his background. Should they try to find out or should they consider the past dead? —P. W. K.

DEAR P:

I doubt there's any dark, terrible secret in your boyfriend's past, and your folks could easily assure themselves by getting to know his foster parents.

Meanwhile, let the present speak for itself. When the time comes, he'll fill you in on history. — H.

SUBURBAN

AFTER SIX MONTHS of travel to exotic places, Mr. and Mrs. William Howell are home again in Tiburon. A few highlights of their trip were a five-day voyage down the Danube on a Rumanian ship; seeing a seven-level air-conditioned ancient city recently uncovered by archeologists in Turkey; meeting only camel caravans on a 40 mile stretch of mountain road in Afghanistan during the first snowfall in October, and visiting the famous Tiger Tops in Nepal, which they reached after a two hour elephant ride. At Cape Comoran in southern India, they stood with one foot in the Bay of Bengal, the other foot in the Arabian Sea, and could clearly see the Indian Ocean nearby.

In North Borneo they saw the extraordinary long houses of the Land Dayaks, where 100 families live under one roof. They arrived in this part of the world in December, only a couple of weeks after the natives had decapitated some 250 Communist Chinese in a reversion to the head-hunting practices of their ancestors.

Bill Howell shot the rapids in the Pagsagjan River on Luzon Island in the Philippines in a dugout canoe. The last leg of their journey was made aboard the ship President Wilson, which they boarded in Manila, visiting Nagasaki, Kobe, Yokohama, Hong Kong and Honolulu before making port in San Francisco Tuesday.

PARIS (UPI)—Elizabeth Taylor is entering the Paris fashion world with the shortest miniskirt in town, her partners said today.

The actress will open in March a boutique on the increasingly fashionable Left Bank featuring the designs of Mia Fonssagrives, 24, of New York and Vicky Tiel, 23, of Washington, D.C.

Vicky and Mia said their fashions, including a wedding dress designed by Miss Taylor, despite their avant garde styles would be soft and glamorous. And "very very sexy."

But the la Taylor miniskirt will be more so.

They said the miniskirts would stop at the hip bottom, just about as high as a skirt can go. This would make them the shortest minis in Paris.

"Sacks," chimed in Mia, "sleazy and slinky satins for evening —very sexy."

The Taylor collection will debut Sunday with a showing at Maxim's restaurant. The event will be more in the Hollywood tradition than in the starchy chic of haute couture.

The designers did not say whether Miss Taylor would model any of the fashions.

"We met Elizabeth about three years ago when we were working on the designs for "What's New, Pussycat?" and she was filming at the same studio," Vicky said. "Richard (Burton) asked us to make her a dress as a surprise present and we've been doing things for her ever since."

Vicky and Mia came to Paris two years ago with two sewing machines, $1,000 and high ambitions. They attracted the attention of couturier Louis Feraud (especially Mia, who married him), then of fashion writers and film makers. They met Elizabeth Taylor, who this year suggested they go into business together.

The financial backing has allowed the designers more freedom to follow their whimsy toward extravagant femininity.

Take their belts, for instance. They will be made of diamond and pearl necklaces expanded to waist size by matching strands of the precious baubles.

It Costs More To Dress Woman

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Labor Department has made official what most husbands already know—it costs a lot more to keep women well dressed than men.

And, says a report in the Monthly Labor Review, the higher cost of clothing the ladies persists from ages 2 to 72.

The greatest spending differences are at the ages of 16 and 17, when the average girl's wardrobe costs 42 per cent more than a boy's.

The report by Ann Erickson of the department's Division of Living Conditions Studies added Tuesday that both sexes become more clothes conscious in their mid and late teens.

"Although 18 to 24-year-olds had the highest clothing bills, their average expenditures were only slightly higher than the 16 and 17-year-olds," it said.

From London Come Maxi-Skirt Levels

LONDON (UPI) — Norman Hartnell, dress maker to Queen Elizabeth II and numerous other ladies of title, today sent some of his hems tumbling down to maxi-skirt level.

Quite a few girls already wear maxis in London. But that Hartnell, renowned as a conservative designer, should join in the let's-hide-legs movement was something of a bombshell.

His collection for spring and summer produced narrowly cut, belted maxi-coats for day and maxi-dresses for evening. But he showed also some of the shortest clothes he has made to balance them out.

"AUTUMN WILL tell whether they catch on."

He did not think mini-skirt lovers would find their movements inhibited by switching to mid-calf length. After all, he said, "girls used to pop onto tram cars with hobble skirts."

Hartnell said he liked maxi-skirts but added rather cautiously, "I've got used to them."

Queen Elizabeth is not expected to rush out wearing the long style, but others may go for Hartnell's belted orange wool maxi-coat with vanilla pocket flaps dotted down the front. Underneath was his miniest dress, a vanilla shift up above the knee.

Both those were belted as part of Hartnell's plan to bring back waists.

His full-length, traditional style evening gowns carried the embroidery for which he is famous. Few could afford his pink and white gown dotted with pink and white diamonds.

Apart from the maxis, his day styles of timeless suits and slim-line coats showed the knee or at least some of it.

NOVATO BONDS

Street, Park Fates On Tuesday Ballot

tor of public works, and his staff have prepared a system of streets to make a grid that will tie the city together. Coleman does not make any claim that the bond issue will bring all of the streets in the city up to standards.

The $5,750,000 in bonds, would be augmented by $3,055,000 from adjoining property owners in assessment districts, and $2,015,000 in gasoline tax money, Coleman said. This would make possible street improvements amounting to $10,820,000 over the next decade if Proposition A is passed, according to Coleman.

Streets scheduled for major reconstruction according to this plan are: South Novato Boulevard and Novato Boulevard from Highway 37 to San Marin Drive;

In addition, $215,000 would be used for repaving and repairs on streets all over the city immediately. Another $575,000 would be used in the 10-year period for a continued repaving program on 43 miles of streets.

If the residents of an area will not go into an assessment district to finance curbs, gutters, sidewalks and parking lanes, plans are for the streets to be constructed anyway, with the main traveled lanes being paid for by the city. The other improvements along the property line would be omitted, Coleman said.

(Tomorrow's article will deal with the park proposals.)

Hungry Burglars Hit Novato Fish Market

Hungry burglars last night broke into the Octopus Fish Market and Snack Bar at 7416 Redwood Highway and the adjoining Peppington's Poodle Parlor at 7410 Redwood Highway both of Novato, Novato police reported.

Entry into the fish market was made through a rear window, police reported. The burglars made salami sandwiches and even dropped two sandwiches outside when they fled the scene, according to police.

The burglary was discovered when Albert Sollini, owner of the Octopus, opened the market shortly before 7 a.m. today. The burglars got between $23 and $24 in cash, police reported.

Dominic Colla, owner of the Poodle Parlor, reported that the burglars had taken only a few cents from the cash drawer. Entry was made through a connecting bathroom.

The night before, burglars broke into Harry's Billiard Parlor at 1062 Machin Avenue, Novato, a block away from the fish market and dog parlor. Ronald H. Doolittle, of 1940 Center Road, Novato, discovered the burglary when he opened the billiard parlor at 11:15 a.m., according to police reports. Approximately $100 in cash was taken there, police reported.

Burglars the same night broke into the car belonging to Dennis Charles Koeing, 20, of 590 Eldrid Street, Novato, taking an auto stereo and tapes valued at $96, police reported. His mother, Mrs. Irene J. Koeing, same address, said the burglary occurred while she was gone from the house between 7:30 and 8:05 p.m. The car was in the driveway at the time, police reported.

Wider Stretch Of Boulevard For Hub, Ross

The new two-lane southbound section of Sir Francis Drake Boulevard in San Anselmo and Ross will open tomorrow.

Charles R. Leitzell, San Anselmo city engineer and director of public works, said traffic lights for the six-block section, the latest in an over-all Drake Boulevard a four-lane road from highway 101 to the San Anselmo Hub, will be working shortly after 10 a.m.

The new section is from Tunstead Avenue in San Anselmo to the Winship Bridge in Ross, just south of Bolinas Avenue. Leitzell said construction began May 29 and cost was about $200,000 for the San Anselmo section, and $60,300 for the Ross portion.

He said no right turns will be permitted off Tunstead Avenue southbound onto Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, nor any turns on the boulevard from San Anselmo Avenue to Barber Avenue. Signs are posted to this effect, Leitzell added.

He said plans for a ribbon-cutting ceremony are being made. The boulevard still is two-lane from the south end of the new construction to Laurel Grove Avenue in Kentfield, he said.

Saigon Will Release North Viet Prisoners

SAIGON (AP) — Between 35 and 40 sick and wounded North Vietnamese war prisoners will be released by the Saigon government, informed sources said today. Hope was expressed that the Communists will release some of the 231 U.S. military men they hold, but there was no indication they would.

The sources said there has been no contact with the North Vietnamese government regarding a possible reciprocal release of American prisoners, but they added that this is hoped for in all such releases.

EDUCATOR'S VIEW

Musical Freedom In Soviet Union

By MAYBELLE SPECKMANN

The Soviet Union is enjoying a new freedom in music because the people have realized that history should decide whether it is good or bad.

said Ernst, who attended the Ernst, president of the International Society of Music Educators. He spoke about Soviet music last night before the Marin County Music Teachers Association at the Blue Rock Restaurant in Larkspur.

DR. KARL ERNST
Discusses Russian music

SAFETY VALVE

"Artists, musicians, writers and poets can't be put down," said Ernest, who attended the 100th anniversary celebration of the Moscow Conservatory of Music in October 1966. "You can't squash them as you can a political writer.

"The arts have really been a safety valve. They have been responsible for bringing some of the freedoms back to the people."

Comparing the quality of American orchestras with those in the USSR, Ernst said the Russians were weak in the development of players of wind instruments, but orchestras in the USSR had strong string sections.

"They don't get the same kind of sound our young people do with wind instruments," he said. "Maybe it's due to the kind of instruments — they don't have the kind of wind and percussion equipment we have — or perhaps there is not enough competition.

"In listening to Soviet orchestras you notice that while string sections are brilliant, the winds don't have the polish and uniformity of blend we are used to here in our orchestras.

"The explanation of why many of the finest pianists and violinists who travel the concert circuit today are from Russia," he said, "is that they have had the very best training from an early age. By starting children early they develop some tremendous performers, especially in strings and piano, to which they are devoted."

SPECIAL SCHOOLS

Dr. Ernst said that this training begins in special elementary schools of eight grades, where music is taught one hour a day in the regular curriculum and two hours a day in four-year secondary schools.

A child as young as six who has talent may apply for admission to the elementary school and be admitted if he has good coordination, sense of pitch and ability to repeat melody. No performance test is required. Students have no financial worries.

Teachers in these schools are leading conservatory professors, performers and composers, Shostakovich, Oistrakh and Rostropovich, who are expected to donate a certain amount of time to music education.

"This places teaching music on a high level with no separation of those who teach music from those who perform," Ernst declared.

PIONEER CLUBS

In addition to the special schools there are also pioneer clubs, an after-school activity in which students continue their study of music at culture palaces, where fine musicians direct choral groups, orchestras and give piano instruction.

Ernst was impressed with the ability of students to attend performances at the great Bolshoi Theater for 75 cents. Top price is $3.50.

He added that there are also special schools for ballet, art and circus which children enter at a very early age.

All programs will be presented in Olney Hall at the College of Marin at 8:15 p.m.

Arizona Girl Found Wandering

An Apache Indian girl was found wandering alone in San Rafael yesterday, lost 800 miles from her home, which she said was in Phoenix, Ariz.

Police said they found 17-year-old Georgie Victor crying in a rest room in Albert Park at midday yesterday.

She said she had spent the night there after being stranded by a girl friend who had persuaded her to leave home and go to San Francisco.

The Indian girl did not know where she was or how far San Francisco is from Phoenix.

Police Sgt. Louis Foster said an address in Phoenix given by the girl failed to produce any relatives. He said he would ask the help of the Bureau of Indian Affairs before issuing a statewide bulletin on the girl.

Civic Center Displays Art Of Schools

More than 100 paintings and art work by school children in the first to sixth grades are on exhibit on the third floor of the Marin County Civic Center, in the foyer outside the supervisors' chambers.

Marin Museum Association is sponsoring the exhibit, which will continue through February.

Mrs. Jay C. Crotty, chairman of the children's art appreciation program of the museum association, said the exhibit represents work done in some 30 schools in Marin County.

"We train volunteers who then help teach art in the schools, and this is a part of the results of that program."

Folksinger Aids Tam High Cause

Folksinger Hope Alexander has been recruited for Saturday's windup of Tamalpais High School's $1,000 fund-raising campaign for a Peace Corps school.

Miss Alexander, now singing at the Purple Onion II in San Francisco, will appear in a variety show starting at 8:30 p.m. at Ruby Scott auditorium at Tam.

Margo Jones, singer and actress who recently wrote, directed and choreographed the Tam High version of "Hansel and Gretel," will also perform, as will faculty and student groups.

Marin Artist Shows At Oakland Center

Driver Fined

Valerie Ann Arden, 24, of 2165-A Paradise Drive, Tiburon, was fined $150 and placed on probation for six months in Municipal Court yesterday for driving while intoxicated on Beach Road, Tiburon, Oct. 27, when Tiburon sheriff's deputies arrested her.

Tables Stolen

Someone took two living room tables valued at $240 from outside the door of Johnson's Red Barn at 7388 Redwood Highway, Novato, sometime between 6 and 9 p.m., Friday night, Richard A. Bronberg, owner, of 2190 Vineyard Road, Novato, reported Tuesday to police.

Longest Run Title To 'The Fantasticks'

NEW YORK (UPI)—When the houselights dim and the stagelights brighten tonight at the Sullivan Street Playhouse, "The Fantasticks" will become the longest running show in American stage history.

It will be the 3,225th performance of the delightful musical whose theme is love. That makes one more performance than the previous American record, the Broadway production of "Life With Father," and is several months longer than the previous off-Broadway long run, "Threepenny Opera."

"The Fantasticks" also eclipses such long run Broadway favorites as "Tobacco Road," "My Fair Lady," "Abie's Irish Rose," "Oklahoma," "South Pacific," "Harvey," "Hello Dolly" and "Born Yesterday."

Despite its success, however, "The Fantastics" has a long way to go before it can claim a world record for longevity. "The Mousetrap," with over 6,200 performances, and "Black and White Minstrels," with more than 3,400 performances, are both still going strong in London.

"The Fantastics," starting its eighth year in the tiny playhouse, opened May 3, 1960. Written by Tom Jones and Harvey Schmidt, it has grossed at Sullivan Street $2 million, representing a return to its investors of 2,100 per cent profit. The show is in its fourth year in San Francisco.

There have also been 1,081 productions of the show in 826 communities in all 50 states. The show has had 26 productions in Canada, 12 in Scandinavia, 6 in Australia, and has had long runs in Dublin, Tokyo, Mexico City, Addis Ababa, Ryiadh and Tel Aviv, and is being prepared in Chad.

Organ Recital

Organist Carl Weinrich will present a free recital Sunday at 4 p.m. in the First Presbyterian Church of San Anselmo. It will be is only Bay Area appearance this season.

Mozart Group Will Perform Sunday Night

The Bach to Mozart Group will present the third concert in the eighth annual candlelight concert series sponsored by the Homestead Valley Improvement Club Sunday at 8 p.m. in Brown's Hall, Mill Valley.

Guest artist will be clarinetist Frealon Bibbins. Other members of the group are Gwen Curatilo, soprano; Edgar Jones, baritone; Raymond Duste, oboe; George Nagato, violin; Asbjorn Finess, viola; Ellen Dessler, cello; Edward Haug, trumpet; and Margaret Fabrizio, piano and harpsichord.

Major works to be performed are Mozart's Trio in E Flat Major (Kegelstatt), K 498, for clarinet, viola and piano, and Quartet in F Major, K 370.

Vocal numbers included will be "Das Veilchen," K 523, and "Abendempfindung," K 523, by Mozart and "Der Hirt auf Dem Felson" for soprano, clarinet and piano, sung by Miss Cuartilo; and the mourning scene from "Samuel" by Ned Rorem and three songs by John Blow sung by Jones.

Completing the program will be Mozart's Concerto for Trumpet in D Major with oboe and strings and "Alleluja (Exsultate Jubilate)," K 165.

THIRD SECTION — SAN RAFAEL, CALIFORNIA, THURSDAY, JANUARY 18, 1968 — 25

IN 'HOT SEAT' AT 25

New Human Rights Chief Stresses Role Of Youth

By DAVID DIETZ

Austin J. Thompson, who is 25 years old, has become executive director of Marin County's Human Rights Commission. He says he is "sitting in the hot seat."

Did Thompson think that, at 25, he was appointed primarily to interest young people in human rights work?

"I hope so," he said. "The present cultural leaders haven't shown me much." Thompson added that, in 10 years, it is predicted that 50 per cent of America's population will be under 25, and that it is important to "deal with problems as young people see them."

Thompson, who began work Monday, makes it clear the county administration will have to help more if human rights are to improve in Marin.

"I have to have a meaningful budget," he says, without specifying figures. "And I need staff help. Right now, there is an executive director and a secretary — that's absurd."

The commissioners themselves are unsalaried. This fiscal year, the department is operating with a budget of $25,650, up $6,000 from 1966-67 but $10,000 below what was sought for the current year.

Thompson, a former consultant with the San Mateo County Human Resources Commission, will be paid $840 a month. He says he needs an assistant for community liaison, while he runs the office and plans programs.

Robert B. Brauer of Berkeley asked County Administrator Alan Bruce for a field worker last year when he was the commission executive director. He was turned down. Thompson's predecessor, Gene T. Orro of San Anselmo, resigned, as did Brauer, amid reports of too much work and a conflict of authority with the county administration.

"I'm not frightened by pressure," says Thompson, who worked in Hunters Point and East Palo Alto during racial violence. "In this position I'll be faced with a lot of it.

"I stood on a street corner with the police shooting on one side and the rioters shooting on the other, so I know what pressure's like."

In Hunters Point, Thompson said, he helped form a group called Young Men of Action, which volunteered patrols to halt violence. He assisted in organizing the Black Community Relations Association, which had a similar role in East Palo Alto.

Thompson holds a master of social of welfare degree from the University of California.

He sees his new role as a "Mediator," with his office as a "neutral ground for conflicts" and a "clearing house for ideas." He knows of the problems in Marin City, but prefers to view his work in "Marin as a whole."

He believes the way to deal with young people is to let them talk about their troubles until they begin seeing ways to work out of them.

"In Hunters Point, I was just listening, not saying a word, and eventually the discussion turned around until they said to themselves, 'we're burning our own homes.' "

"It's a never-used technique — and it works," says Thompson, thumping a hand on his desk.

He said he hopes to involve Marin youth in the planning of human rights activities and in formation of recreational programs. He hopes businessmen will help, and urged participation by middle class citizens.

"You can't do this job alone," Thompson says. "You have to have assistance.

Thompson said improved police-community relations are needed. He said a conference among police chiefs, commission representatives and residents to discuss increased use of citations in misdemeanor cases was set for 9 a.m. Saturday in the Civic Center.

Thompson said the meeting should show young people that police "care" about them.

Anti-Poverty Critics Keep Questions Flying

The new adjunct of the Marin County Economic Opportunity Council spent much of its meeting last night answering the most persistent critics of the county's anti-poverty program.

The audience at a meeting of the San Anselmo-Fairfax Area Board of the EOC at Fairfax Central School was made up largely of residents of the San Geronimo Valley. Persons in the valley have resisted EOC plans to pump anti-poverty funds into their area.

LEGAL QUESTION

Peter Knoedler of Woodacre questioned the legality of the San Anselmo-Fairfax group. John R. Palunco Jr. of San Anselmo, board chairman, said his group had been "approved" by the EOC board and that "this bears legality in my estimation."

Richard Poppe of Forest Knolls cited federal Office of Economic Opportunity guidelines which, he said, would place th egroup in the category of a "target area action board." Such a board would have power to implement major anti-poverty programs.

But Palunco said his board now planned only a "Big Brother" program with other than federal OEO funds. Federal money is not available, he said, and funds would have to come through a private or other public agency.

He also said the board has talked of other programs in dog control, intra-city transportation, "Little Sisters" and a kiddies' matinee. But he added plans were strictly informal.

INTEREST CALLS

"We are not launching poverty programs," Palunco said.

Palunco reported that the EOC had "received a number of calls and visits from people who expressed interest" in a Big Brother program.

The program would provide a "volunteer" father to counsel fatherless children. Palunco said details of the proposal had not been worked out.

Knoedler asked whether the program would duplicate efforts of Big Brothers of America, a private organization. Palunco said the private program did not come into Marin County.

The board took no official actions last night since it had no quorum. Of 10 members, five came to the meeting.

The next meeting will be at 8 p.m. Feb. 7 at a place to be determined.

Self-Burned San Quentin Inmate Dies

Charles Harrison Cooper, San Quentin convict who set himself on fire in his cell Tuesday, died last night in the prison hospital. He had suffered burns over 80 per cent of his body, according to associate Warden James W. L. Park.

Cooper, who was under investigation for the strangling of a cellmate, had wrapped himself in his mattress and piled newspapers high in his cell before setting fire to them.

The fire was seen by a correctional officer but he was unable to put it out with a fire extinguisher as the mattress acted like a chimney, Park said.

In October Cooper had allegedly strangled his cellmate William F. Stephens, 33, but District Attorney Bruce B. Bales said he may have killed him in self defense.

Cooper had a ten-year prison record for armed robbery and kidnapping and was serving a five-year-to-life sentence for armed robbery and an additional life term for kidnapping.

A native of Virginia, Cooper is survived by his mother, Alice Cooper, his stepfather, Arthur Meek; and a brother, Zachary Cooper, all of Carlsbad, Calif.

BOND PROS, CONS

Novatans Answer Park Criticisms

Statements made by Albert Doerig Jr. and George Amaroli in the Independent-Journal on Tuesday, opposing the parks measure on the Novato special bond election next Tuesday, necessitate setting the record straight, said Ross Wright and Paul D. Fry, co-chairman of the Novatans for Better Streets and Parks Committee. (See also first of two articles on election, page 1).

John D. Kassenbrock, chairman of the Novato Parks and Recreation Commission, answered the statements made in the name of the Taxation After Balloting committee (TAB):

1. "The city council did not arbitrarily spend 10 cents of the 1965 30-cent parks tax for the purchase of a civic center site. The measure was set up before passage to provide money for parks and/or a civic center site purchase. Monies from the civic center portion have been advanced for purchase of parks pending receipt of federal matching funds for the purchase of six acres at Pioneer Memorial Park and a half-acre at Arroyo Avichi Park. The money will be returned to the civic center fund when the federal warrant is received."

(TAB said that the city had levied a 30-cent parks tax and then used 10 cents of this to purchase a civic center site.)

2. "On the basis of the experience with a hastily planned swimming pool bond issue, the city council saw fit to hire competent professionals in park development to insure proper design and funding for the projected parks. Cost figures on design and development have allowances for increased costs to be used only if necessary."

(TAB compared the $100,000 swimming pool bond issue voted by the people with the $130,000 actual cost of the pool and asserted that there was no assurance that the total park financing will not exceed the proposed bond issue.)

3. "The maintenance figures have been known and a matter of record for some time. Under terms of the city-school district agreement maintenance charges will be partially borne by the school district, not wholly by the city."

(TAB claimed the cost of parks maintenance and parks operation was an unknown figure.)

4. "Duplication of existing or proposed state and federal parks within the county is nowhere planned, contemplated or discussed. Basic neighborhood parks, city parks and swimming pools are not included in county, state or federal parks systems in existence now, or those planned."

(TAB had said that the proposed parks system would be a duplication of existing or planned parks.)

Novato Mayor J. Wayne Womack had this to say about the statements made by TAB:

"Statements made by the TAB committee in reasons for opposing Measure B (parks) are incorrect. All records of council expenditures or tax monies are a matter of public record and available to anyone wishing to know the exact disposition of same. Copies of city ordinances are also available to the public. It is of vital concern that correct factual information is not always disseminated by special interest groups."

In Good Condition

Patrice Frees, 31, of 1000 Shelter Bay Drive, Alto, was reported in good condition today at the emergency room of Marin General Hospital, where she was treated for an accidental overdose of pills.

24 Marinites Are Inducted Into The Army

Marin's Selective Service board said today 24 young men were inducted into the Army this month.

The board's quota for the month had been 55, Mrs. Joy M. Knizer, executive secretary of Local Board 25, said.

Inducted were Johnny L. Parrish, David F. Lochelt, Lee R. Faustine, Jeffrey R. Shelton and Dieter Hagel, all of San Rafael; Stephen C. Gasperoni, Rene E. Bacho, James E. Boyle and John R. Steinkampf, all of Novato; Peter C. Grant of Larkspur, Paul G. Fontan of Bolinas, William R. Torres of Santa Clara, William R. Meyers and John E. Burnham of San Anselmo.

Also Christopher L. Walsh of Corte Madera, Richard G. Torney of Kentfield, Charles E. Prather of Mill Valley, Robert L. Williams and Anthony Cantarutti of Petaluma, John M. Finsland of Greenbrae, Robert E. Ketchu of Tiburon, Dennis A. Christ of Sausalito, Johnie C. Quinn of Fairfax and Robert W. Watkins of Hamilton Air Force Base.

The board's quota is seldom reached because of deferments and enlistments among those scheduled for induction.

The February quota is 30.

Marijuana Case To Juvenile Court

Ronald A. Bell, 18, of 30 Miraflores Avenue, San Rafael, was sent from Marin Municipal Court to Juvenile Court yesterday to face a charge of marijuana possession.

Bell was arrested Dec. 31 by the California Highway Patrol, which said officers found marijuana on his person and about $1,000 worth of marijuana in the rear of the truck he was riding in on Highway 101.

Regional Park Idea Advantages Cited

By JOHN F. KEARNEY

What would happen if Marin County annexed to the East Bay Regional Park District tomorrow?

More money would be available for county parks for one thing and there would be less administration costs for another, Irwin Luckman, district manager told a meeting of the Conservation Council of Marin last night.

He did not go out of his way to do a selling job. His talk was called "Parks — the Time is Now" and he did not mention a possibility of Marin County annexation until he was asked a question two minutes before the meeting adjourned.

CAUTION STRESSED

"I have to be careful here," he said. "I don't know enough about the present county operation to pass comment on the benefits, if any, of annexation."

But the present county funds allocated parks and recreation in Marin was only a third the money available through the district. The East Bay district is financed through a basic tax of 10 cents per $100 of assessed valuation.

"Whether you joined this district or formed one of your own, that money would be secure—at least more secure than if it came out of county funds," he said.

PARKS A LUXURY?

Some counties — not particularly Marin — consider parks and recreation a luxury and not a necessity, Luckman said. With increases in urbanization and leisure time, this service could no longer run the risk of being pushed continually to the bottom of the totem pole in the scramble for financing, he said.

"Our income is way below what it should be but at least it is secure," he said. The district can maintain its tax rate of 10 cents until 1975.

The East Bay district was formed in 1934 in Alameda County and was joined by Contra Costa County three years ago. The district comprises 18,00 acres of land and anticipates it will grow to 40,000 within the next 25 years, Luckman said.

BOND PROBLEM

Last night, conservation council members were particularly interested in the case of Contra Costa which voted to join after failing to pass two bond proposals and now faced the prospects of housing a 10,000-acre park within its boundaries.

"Any group can pass with a simple majority a decision to become annexed or to form a regional district of its own," said Luckman.

Speaking personally, he said he was in favor of a nine-county regional park. He felt this was one field where large, overall planning was needed instead of individual counties.

'LAND BANK'

He advocated the buying of land ahead of developers and holding it as a "land bank" in readiness for eventual use as parks.

The Conservation Council of Marin elected a slate of new officers at the meeting. They are: Jean Barnard, president; Larry Giacomini, vice president; Mrs. Bradley K. Holbrook, secretary; and Mrs. John Ericson, treasurer.

Sewage System Needs Report To Be Given

Assistant County Administrator John F. Barrows will address the Southern Marin League of Women Voters Wednesday on the Brown and Caldwell Report on county-wide sewage system needs.

Barrows will speak at 10:30 a.m. at the Mill Valley Golf clubhouse at the league's general meeting. Discussion and a question period will follow his speech.

San Francisco Paper Talks Slated Tuesday

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — San Francisco's two major dailies won't be publishing for at least another week.

Negotiators for striking mailers and the publishers of the morning Chronicle and afternoon Examiner agreed yesterday to resume talks broken off last week. But the negotiations won't be held until next Tuesday.

The reception, complete with pink champagne and cake, was staged outside the struck plant. Miss Alberdingk-Thym is an employee of the Chronicle.

The two-week strike has idled 3,000 workers and cut off newspapers to 710,000 readers.

The members of Mailers Union Local 18 went on strike Jan. 5 against the San Francisco Newspaper Publishing Co., a jointly owned firm which prints the two dailies.

The mailers have also been working 10 months without a contract at the Oakland Tribune and San Jose Mercury and News. The talks next week will involve these papers also.

Attorneys for the Chronicle and the Examiner yesterday asked Superior Court Judge Edward F. O'Day for an injunction against mass picketing.

O'Day continued the hearing until today to allow the companies to present further testimony.

The company argued Wednesday that the presence of more than two dozen pickets in front of the Mission Street entrances to the building constituted mass picketing; that entrances were blocked; and that the picket line was psychological intimidation.

The matter of the injunction to replace the restraining order was first assigned to Superior Judge Robert J. Drewes. He disqualified himself on grounds that his wife worked for the Examiner women's page.

And from Los Angeles, an American Newspaper Guild spokesman said, "We feel slightly optimistic," after more than six hours of negotiations between striking unions and the Herald-Examiner.

Management had no comment on the talks yesterday. Negotiators agreed to meet again tomorrow morning.

Since the guild struck on Dec. 15 asking a weekly pay raise from $174.40 to $200.80 over two years, the Herald-Examiner has published limited editions with nonunion personnel. Other unions joined the guild.

Peace Party Registration Climbs To 3,079 In Marin

The Peace and Freedom Party recorded 3,079 registrants in Marin County by Jan. 2, while George Wallace's American Independent Party received support from only 209 persons, County Clerk George H. Gnoss announced today.

Gnoss said 80,545 persons were registered as of Jan. 2, the statutory date for closing registrations to determine which political parties qualify for the June Primary election.

The breakdown by party was: Republican, 40,422; Democratic, 33,810; Peace and Freedom, 3,079; American Independent, 209; miscellaneous, 19.

There were 3,006 voters who declined to state party affiliation.

John F. Musser Jr., assistant county clerk for elections, said a state-wide total, determining the qualification of the P and F and AIP parties, will be announced by the Secretary of State in three to five days.

Both third parties need 66,059 registrants to qualify for the primary election.

DiGiorgio Begins Selling Property

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Di Giorgio Corp. announced yesterday it has started to sell 5,410 acres of its farm property near Arvin under an agreement with the federal government.

Robert Di Giorgio, the firm's president, said it sought early disposal of the 160 acre parcels, which it was required to sell under federal water laws. He said some parcels already had been sold, although the company had 10 years to sell the land under terms of a contract signed with the U.S. Department of Interior.

Di Giorgio presently owns 9,000 acres near Arvin, with crops including grapes, cotton, barley and peanuts. It was required to sell only those portions using federally financed irrigation water.

Three Vehicles Are Looted In Same Parking Lot

Five auto burglaries, three of them from the same parking lot on the same night, were reported yesterday by Marin Sheriff's deputies.

The concentration of thefts was in The Ark parking lot near Sausalito Monday night.

David W. King of 200 Daryl Avenue, Novato, reported the loss of a $325 trombone. Ignacio V. Navarro of San Francisco said a stereo speaker was taken from his car. Donald Parducci of Ukiah said he lost a steering wheel and a $43 jacket.

Patrick J. Coleman of 503 Pineo Drive, Apt. 5, Tamalpais Valley, complained that someone stole his $135 auto stereophonic player from his car parked in the carport Saturday night.

Frank R. Silva of 837 Sweetwater Avenue, Novato, said a similar stereo and tapes, worth $225, were stolen from his car parked in the College of Marin parking lot that night.

Marin Collegians Undergoing Exams

Undergraduate students at College of Marin will have next week off following completion of final examinations for the current semester tomorrow and start of the spring semester Jan. 29.

The break does not include adult education courses, which are on a quarterly basis with the present semester ending March 22, college officials said.

News Agencies Set To Tally Ballots

NEW YORK (UPI) — News Election Service, the organization which counted national election results in 1964 and 1966, will broaden its operation in 1968 to tabulate some presidential primary elections, it was announced Tuesday.

The two press associations and three major broadcasting networks support NES and share in responsibility for its operations. Members are American Broadcasting Co., The Associated Press, Columbia Broadcasting System, National Broadcasting Co. and United Press International.

Each company is represented on the NES Board of Managers, which made the announcement of NES participation in presidential primaries. The tabulation in presidential primaries will be in addition to the counting in the Nov. 5, 1968, national elections, when NES will gather and total the vote in 50 states and the District of Columbia for candidates for President, U.S. Senator, state governors and representatives in Congress

FIRST TEST

First of the primary election operations will be in the March 12 New Hampshire primary, the first presidential primary this year.

J. Richard Eimers, executive director of NES, said that returns for each state, in both the primary and the general elections, will be tabulated in a central computer system. The system was tested successfully in the 1966 off-year elections in a project involving 11 western states. The computer will distribute candidate totals to headquarters of each NES member and to the NES headquarters in the state where the election is being held.

Eimers said the system to be used in each primary is about the same as that which will be used for the national vote in November, and will be accompanied by a sharp expansion in vote coverage at the precinct level.

FOUR PRIMARIES

Four state presidential primaries are reasonably certain to be covered by NES: New Hampshire; Wisconsin, April 2; Nebraska, May 14; and Oregon, May 28. In those states, the law encourages or requires listing on the ballot the names of those judged to be serious national candidates.

Other states probably will be covered, but determination of these will have to wait until candidate filing deadlines have passed. In states not covered by NES, news organizations will be served by normal tabulation methods used in other years.

The basic approach of NES to the general elections, first employed in 1964, was to use the strength of its five members, dividing responsibility among them for setting up collection teams in each state.

The member responsible for the collection team in a state in the November election will organize the collection team in that state in the primary. "NES simply is applying to this organizational method a standardized procedure of electronic tabulation. This will permit us to do a larger coverage job faster, more accurately and more thoroughly," Eimers said.

The Department of Justice has reviewed the NES proposed operation and has stated no objection.

Participation in the NES operation and use of its returns is open to any bonafide news dissemination company or agency which wishes to share in the cost, the NES announcement pointed out.

Pedestrian Is Hurt In Crash

A 76-year-old San Rafael man, Frank Carl Koenig suffered a cut scalp and fractured left hip Tuesday night when he was knocked down by an auto at Fourth and D streets, San Rafael.

Police said a car driven by Frederick M. Bushneff Jr., of Petaluma, struck Koenig at the intersection at 5:48 p.m.

Cattlemen Charge Market Chains With Conspiracy

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Northern California and Colorado livestock raisers today charged the three largest retail grocery chains in the United States with conspiracy to control meat prices.

In an antitrust suit filed in the U.S. District Court, the cattlemen asked for an injunction and treble damages to be determined under the Clayton and Sherman Antitrust acts.

The suit against Safeway Stores, Inc., of Oakland, Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea Co., of New York and the Kroger Co., of Cincinnati, Ohio, was filed by the following:

Irving Bray, King City, Cattleman; Arnold Christenon, Arbuckle, cattleman; Stanley L. Van Vleck, Sloughhouse, cattleman; Superior Packing Co., Sacramento, slaughterhouse and meat processor; Donald S. Compton & Sons, Herald, feedlot operator; R. E. Boulton & Sons, Inc., Silt, Colo., cattlemen; and William C. Prather, DeBeque, Colo., cattle raiser.

The suit said that A & P, largest retail chain grocery in the United States; Safeway, the second largest, and Kroger, third largest, all operate meat distributing warehouses of their own.

The cattlemen charge that the stores entered into a conspiracy to keep prices at noncompetitive low levels to suppliers on processed, fresh and frozen meats. It said they also conspired to charge noncompetitive and artificially high prices for the same products at the retail level.

As a result of the charged conspiracy, the cattlemen declared they suffered business losses and sold their livestock at less than they coud have in an open competitive market.

Endorsing Bonds

Two more organizations last night endorsed the $8 million streets and parks bond issue before the Novato voters at a special election Tuesday: The Olive School Parent-Teacher Association and the Marin County Building Trades Council.

Marijuana Suspect's Address Is Corrected

Randolph W. McCarley, 18, arrested Sunday on suspicion of possession of marijuana, resides at 64 Surrey Lane, San Rafael, and not at 35 Acacia Road, Fairfax, as indicated in a story in the Independent-Journal Tuesday.

McCarley was booked with Gary V. Scozzafava, 20, of the Fairfax address after police found what they believed to be marijuana in a car occupied by the two men in Northgate Shopping Center.

Trustees Revise Promotion Rule

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — San Francisco schools will start next year catching up with other California schools in annual promotion of students.

The Board of Education decided Tuesday night to phase out semi-annual promotions, starting in 1969.

Supt. of schools Robert E. Jenkins said only San Francisco and Los Angeles still promote students semi-annually with high and low grade placements. He estimated the change would save $3 million in 10 years.

State Fiscal Chief Sees Similar Budget For '68-'69

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Finance Director Gordon P. Smith indicated yesterday the Reagan administration will present another economy budget to the Legislature next month.

Smith told newsmen the spending program for the fiscal year beginning July 1 will be generally at the level of this year's record $5.07 billion — with some money added to satisfy the needs of population growth.

"I assure you it will come in at that same level," he said. That statement could be bad news for the University of California and the state colleges which are seeking big increases in funds to make up for last year's controversial cutbacks.

The university wants $311 million, compared to $243 for 1967-68, while the state colleges are asking for $243 million, up from the current $187 million.

Smith made the disclosure at a news briefing he called to head off possible Democratic claims that there might be a $194 million surplus at the end of the year.

But the first question didn't deal with fiscal problems. Smith was asked about rumors circulating around the Capitol that he would either be dismissed or would quit. One newsman said Assembly Speaker Jesse M. Unruh, D-Inglewood, was circulating such stories.

"I offered Mr. Unruh $1,000 that he was absolutely wrong and he wouldn't take my money," said Smith. He said there was "no validity" to the stories.

Smith said that someone — he wouldn't say who — might be tempted to try to spend $194 million in tax funds that were used this year to pay off a debt. Next year, Smith wants to set that money aside for working capital.

"There could be an irresistable urge to spend that money," said Smith.

He reiterated that another $194 million in tax funds will be used, as planned, to provide property tax reductions in the fiscal year beginning July 1.

Reagan had predicted an economy budget Tuesday.

Before meeting with newsmen, Smith told Republican legislators that the $194 million would not be available for new programs. One legislator reported that not all the GOP members were convinced Smith was correct.

Hair Is Stolen

Six hairpieces and a radio valued at a total of $281 were stolen during the weekend from Ronald's Hair Stylists, Second and Valley Streets, owner Ronadl B. Finch told Sausalito police Monday.

Bridge Groups Set Session

Three committee meetings are scheduled by the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District at the administration office at the toll plaza next week.

On Tuesday, the finance committee will meet at 9:30 a.m. and the insurance committee at 11 a.m., instead of the scheduled time of 2 p.m.

The board's public relations and auditing committees will meet Jan. 26 at 10 a.m.

GRAYBEARD PILOTS

Viet Combat Fliers Oldest In Any War

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Air Force pilots in Vietnam average a good 12 years older than their World War II counterparts, but commanders find their greater flying experience makes them more than a match for youngsters.

At an average age of 34.7 years, the Air Force said Tuesday, its pilots in Vietnam are seven years older than the men who flew in the Korean war.

But experience at the controls tends to balance the negative factors of aging—slower reactions and a decline in a pilot's endurance and perception, officials said.

"Men don't all age at the same rate. Admittedly, reactions slow down and an older man who blacks out will stay blacked out longer. But barring an impairment such as early impairment of eyesight, we think experience can more than offset age for a long time."

LESS EDUCATION

The reason World War II pilots were so much younger is that young men, with less education, were shoved through pilot training as fast as they could go during the 1940s.

In 1944, the last full year of the war, more than 80,000 pilots were turned out by the Army Air Force. At that time, U. S. pilots averaged between 21 and 22 years old. This compares with 3,247 scheduled to be trained during the current fiscal year and most of those will be older than 22.

Twenty-nine Air Force pilots in the Vietnam theater are over 50.

OLDEST PILOT

The oldest is Lt. Col. Robert G. Struges of Newport Beach, Calif., the pilot of a C47 dragonship. By coincidence, his scheduled date to leave Vietnam falls on his 55th birthday next May 8.

When Air Force officials decided to go after North Vietnamese MIGs in earnest with supersonic jets armed exclusively for the purpose of shooting them down, 45-year-old Col. Robin Olds was picked to lead the fight.

Olds, a World War II ace, flew 152 missions in Vietnam although a pilot is entitled to return home after flying 100.

NEARLY AN ACE

He shot down four MIGs, a record for Vietnam and just short of the five required to make him an ace for the second time.

Olds is now back in the United States, assigned as superintendent of the cadets of the Air Force Academy at Colorado Springs, Colo.

Lt. Col. Bernard Fisher of Ogden, Utah, holder of the only Medal of Honor conferred to a living member of the Air Force since it was created in 1947, was pushing 40 and had a wife and five children back home when he landed his plane in Vietnam to rescue a downed comrade. The man he rescued, Lt. Col. Dafford W. Myers of Dillon, Pa., was a year or two older.

Unlike the Air Force, the Navy doesn't permit its aviators on combat missions after they've reached age 45. But a Navy spokesman said the average pilot operating from a carrier off Vietnam is still over 30.

Marine and Army pilots are also older than the men who flew in World War II.

San Marin Group Elects Officers

F. Wayne Sartain was elected president of the San Marin Improvement Association at the annual meeting Tuesday night in the San Marin Club in Novato.

Ray F. Vaughn, Herbert W. Cook Jr., James T. Bowen, Guthrie Greene and Robert W. Kruse were elected to the board of directors.

Novato Mayor J. Wayne Womack, Novato parks and recreation director Edward W. Adams and Pierre W. Joske, county parks and recreation director, spoke on the $8 million streets and parks bond issue which will be before the voters at a special election next Tuesday.

18 acres zoned and approved for mobile park. This choice wooded site has over 1000 feet of river frontage with an area suitable for a boat harbor. An old 22-room Victorian mansion with elevator, would be perfect for club house, plus restaurant and bar. A main street with utilities and sewer front the property. A small shopping center and a service station site has been planned on a portion of the 18 acres. Most of the costly engineering plans have already been done, and asking price of $250,000, makes this an exceptional buy.

We just took this clean little wagon in trade from local couple on another new Opel wagon. The perfect Marin County family wagon — gets over 35 miles to the gallon on the road and better than 27 miles per gallon around town.

Jordan Seeking Anti-Bond Writer

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Secretary of State Frank M. Jordan has called on any person in California to write an argument in opposition to a $65 million bond issued on November election ballot, to be used for a construction program for junior colleges.

The measure was adopted by the 1967 legislature. The legislature assigns members to write argument in favor of propositions it puts on the ballot. Jordan accepts volunteers to write arguments opposed to ballot measures.

However, when no opposition arguments are volunteered, Jordan must make a public notice and invite them. Persons who might wish to write arguments opposing the $65 million bond issue have until Feb. 6 to submit such statements to Jordan.

Tam Bond Committee Shifts Meeting Date

The citizens' bond proposal committee of Tamalpais High School District, earlier scheduled to meet yesterday, will instead hold its meeting at 8 p.m. Wednesday in the Redwood High School faculty lounge.

The 10-member committee is aiding the district in holding another multi-million dollar bond issue. A $12.3 million issue to build new high schools at Tiburon and San Geronimo and additions to existing high schools was defeated in the Oct. 10 election.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Grating Sounds In Neck May Be Linked To Arthritis Of Vertebrae

VAN DELLEN

Many persons hear a grating sound in the neck when the head is bent backwards or tilted sideways. Now and then the movements cause pain and occasionally, dizziness.

Arthritis of certain vertebrae of the neck and scarring of the fibrous tissue along the spine usually are responsible. In many instances the neck injury occurred years before the grating begins.

Neck injuries are common among athletes, especially football players. Falling, at any age, may do the same. A 70-year-old physician recently dislocated two vertebrae of his neck. He was getting out of a bed that was less than 18 inches off the floor when his feet caught in the sheets. He rolled out of bed, head first, landing on the floor. Babies have done the same after squirming off dressing tables, chairs, and beds.

REAR-END collisions now account for the majority of neck injuries. During impact, the head is thrown back when the body is thrust forward. Various parts of the neck are sprained, torn, or fractured. Discomford may persist or subside within a few days depending upon the extent of the damage caused by whiplash. Many of the victims will develop arthritis later in life leading to grating sounds mentioned previously. The creaking also develops spontaneously as a result of age.

PAIN OR STIFFNESS caused by an old neck injury requires treatment. X-rays usually demonstrate a bony overgrowth on the sides and back part of the vertebrae along with narrowing of the disk space. Heat, massage, and aspirin are standard remedies. Neck exercises are valuable and easy to do (Our leaflet on these can be obtained by sending stamped, self-addressed envelope with request.) Traction is somtimes used to stretch the neck muscles and spine.

Do not sleep on the abdomen. A small feather pillow helps to avoid unusual angles and stress upon the neck. A collar fashioned from a towel also is helpful. It is made by folding a Turkish towel four times lengthwise, wrapping it around the neck, and fastening it with pins. A thick strip of felt or a neck brace can be worn during the day.

Dr. Val Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request to the Independent-Journal.

M.D. MAKES HER JITTERY

F. H. writes: I'm very nervous, and, when I consult a doctor, my heart beats fast and I sweat all over. Do you think a tranquilizer might help?

REPLY

Temporarily, yes. You seem to be a high-strung woman and a tranquilizer might be advisable if nervousness interferes with your efficiency or causes symptoms.

LIFTING AFTER HERNIA OPERATION

H. O. writes: I had a hernia operation four years ago. Is it safe to do heavy lifting now?

REPLY

Lifting is as safe today as it was three months after your operation, if the lesion was properly repaired. It is important to know how to lift.

KINDS OF PAIN DEFINED

E. M. writes: How does neutritis differ from rheumatism?

REPLY

Neuritis involves nerves, and pain follows the distribution of the affected nerve. Rheumatism is all-inclusive and includes pain in joints, muscles, fascia, and other connective tissues.

UNEASY WITH STRANGERS

B. F. writes: I get the shakes in the presence of strangers. Can this be overcome?

REPLY

Yes, provided you can develop more self-confidence.

Today's Health Hint—

Schools Chief Urging Better Racial Balance

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—A far-reaching program to provide "integrated educational opportunity of the highest caliber" in San Francisco's schools has been outlined by Superintendent of Schools Robert Jenkins.

A key element of the program during the next school year will be adjustment of elementary school boundaries to improve racial balance, Jenkins told a teachers' meeting yesterday.

Local President James E. Ballard said his union, whose 1,400 members have threatened to strike, was protesting Jenkins' refusal to discuss 92 demands presented by the union.

Ballard said Jenkins wanted the union to join other teachers' groups in a negotiating council but the federation has refused to do so.

Ballard said the union's negotiating committee would meet tomorrow and had invited Jenkins to attend. He indicated members would be asked to approve a strike if the superintendent refused to attend the meeting.

Jenkins said the conflict was "not the 92 demands" on educational quality but the union's refusal to meet with school officials "within the provisions of the law."

The union represents about one-third of the district's 4,000 teachers.

Asked if a strike by the union would close San Francisco's schools, Jenkins said such a strike would be illegal in California and added, "Let's hope most of our teachers live up to their responsibilities."

San Jose State Murder Mystery

SAN JOSE (AP) — No clues have been turned up in investigation of the slaying of a San Jose State College student whose body, badly bludgeoned and shot in the back of the head, was found in a small van parked near the campus, police say.

The victim was Richard Lawrence Spivack of Los Angeles.

The body was found yesterday by two other San Jose State students.

Thirty Cases Of TB Found In Marin

Twenty-five new and five reactivated cases of tuberculosis were reported in Marin last year, according to Dr. Patricia Hallinan, county tuberculosis control officer.

San Rafael led Marin communities with seven new and two reactivated cases, Dr. Hallinan told Marin Tuberculosis and Health Association directors Tuesday.

One of the cases involved an 18-year-old whose disease was detected through a chest x-ray by the association at the Marin Art and Garden Fair in Ross last summer, she said.

Of the 25 new cases, 16 were men and nine women, Dr. Hallinan said.

At the meeting Dr. Hallinan administered tuberculin skin tests to directors who didn't know their tuberculin status.

Dr. Edward McCrum, chairman of the Tuberculosis Control Committee, told of modern treatment of tuberculosis. Children, young adults and the elderly are the most vulnerable groups, he said.

Sausalito Chamber Vice President Quits

The Sausalito Chamber of Commerce board of directors Tuesday accepted the resignation of first vice president Halsey H. Lyon, who resigned because of the pressure of business and other commitments.

The board also discussed plans for a city-wide sale in March or April, and plans for 1968 Christmas decorations.

Oil Spill Kills Many Sea Birds

MORRO BAY (AP) — Dead sea birds by scores turned up on blackened beaches after an oil company tanker accidentally dumped 2,800 barrels of industrial oil into Morro Bay.

Richfield Oil Co. said its tanker Catawbe Ford was pumping oil into a steam power plant yesterday when the 37-foot-long submarine pipeline snapped.

The California Fish and Game Commission is investigating whether other fish and wildlife, including the bay's famous clams, were injured.

The commissioner toured the area and today will consider projects which the county considers have high priority.

TELEVISION IN REVIEW

ABC To Cut Back Convention Time

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Thoughts about how to streamline television coverage of the presidential nominating conventions have occupied network executives for some time.

The subject arose again yesterday when ABC-TV announced it was canceling its gavel-to-gavel reporting of this year's conventions in favor of nightly 90-minute prime time wrapups.

ABC-TV is having overall budget headaches, but the network says it was searching for alternatives to gavel-to-gavel coverage anyway.

The obvious ideal answer—for television—would be for the conventions to streamline their own basic procedures, with an eye to a more video-oriented presentation.

There is a strong case for arguing that history should not be organized merely for video consumption. On the other hand, the chief purpose of the conventions is to benefit the people, and if television communication can help further this goal by urging more updated, sophisticated procedures, it seems a decent ambition to support.

ABC-TV is having over-all is far from the over-all solution being sought. For, rather than tightening the live coverage, it all but eliminates it—and this unfortunately means losing the drama of historic moments as they happen, forfeiting the thing television does best.

Among the alternatives the network considered was "selective coverage"—in short, moving in on the story when something is happening. This idea was inaugurated several years ago by CBS-TV in its coverage of space shots, but failed to hold up. The problem, basically, was: once you cut away from a story, how can you hold the audience so that it is still there when you want to go back? The experiment proved that a competitor who offers running coverage will win hands down every time.

There is no question that there is a great deal of tedious procedure during the conventions, and the fact is that much of the tedium hardly springs from such historic events.

Pros Might Tear Up Silverado Course

NAPA (UPI) — Silverado's much celebrated north course proved no great obstacle to more than a dozen pros, including Arnold Palmer, Billy Casper and PGA champ Don January, in a tuneup round, and as a result Arnie's prediction that a 275 will win the $125,000 Kaiser Open Golf Tournament which started today looked about as good as anyone's.

Palmer, who finished far back in the pack at the Crosby tourney last weekend, shot a four-under-par 68, as did Miller Barber and Bobby Nichols, yesterday to share first prize money in the split pro section of a pro-am tuneup.

"I wouldn't be surprised if a 275 will win the tourney title here," said Palmer. "The course is pretty flat and although it's quite long, I don't think it would be far-fetched to guess a lot of guys will finish from 10 to 15 strokes under par when it is over."

Palmer had six birdies and one bogey on his card yesterday. Nichols, the 1964 PGA champion, did even better, bagging an eagle on the par-five, 515-yard ninth, four birdies and two bogies, while Barber, who rarely wins a tourney but always grabs a paycheck, had five birdies and one bogey over the par 36-36—72, 6849-yard layout, which is the tougher of the two courses at Silverado.

Art Wall had a 69 in his tuneup round, while Gene Littler, Charles Coody, Frank Beard, January and Ken Venturi had 70s and Marty Fleckman, Lee Trevino, George Knudson, Casper, Terry Dill, Al Geiberger and Bert Yancey had 71s. The even-par 72 group was made up of eight.

Johnny Pott, surprise winner of the Crosby tourney, his first PGA victory since 1963, picked up on the 14th for violating the new PGA rule which prohibits a player from standing in line with his putt. Another new rule, which goes into effect with the Kaiser, prohibits the use of croquet-type putters. While the Crosby kicked off the new year on the tour, the Kaiser actually is the first official tourney of 1968, thus enforcement of the new rules.

Pott picked up $20,700 for winning the Crosby. Victory in the Kaiser, $25,000, would enable Pott to surpass his entire 1967 earnings of $37,000. He won the Crosby on the strength of his steadiest four rounds ever in 12 years on the PGA tour.

Little and Casper shared first prize money of $562.50 each for winning the pro-am tuneup. Palmer, Barber and Nichols won $650 each in the pro section of the prelude to the Kaiser.

A total of 144 pros, including 20 of the top 25 money winners a year ago, are in the Kaiser. The only notable exceptions are Jack Nicklaus, who paced the list with $188,988 in official money, fourth-place Julius Boros and fifth-place Dan Sikes.

Tips For New Privates In Arnie's Big Army

F'WARD, HARCH! — I suppose many of you are planning to enlist this weekend. I mean, join Arnie's Army. The great Arnold Palmer is enough of an attraction as it is, but now that he's been established favorite at the Kaiser International Golf Tournament at Napa following a 68 practice round Tuesday and another 68 in the pro-amateur event yesterday, the Army will develop tremendous proportions.

For those who have never experienced a tour of duty with the Army, I advise you to bring comfortable shoes — preferably track shoes — because you will spend half your time running. Also, stock up on liniment because much of the time you will have to stand on tippy-toes to look over the shoulders of the taller gent who invariably winds up in front of you and your legs will ache something fierce the next morning. Also, condition your vocal chords to range from a hushed whisper to a screaming "CHARGE!" Your ribs will take a mild beating too, so sharpen your elbows to give it right back to the guys who nudge you out of the way.

I Once Served In Brigade

I speak with authority because I once served 18 agonizing holes in Arnie's Army. I swore I would never do it again, even though Palmer is my favorite athlete.

This Army strikes swiftly, which is where your fine physical condition will play off. Actually the mobs play one giant game of leap frog, to wit:

You arrive early to get a vantage point at the first tee and applaud politely as General Arnie arrives. Late arrivals station themselves 250 yards down the fairway to catch his second shot, so immediately after Arnie drives off the first tee, you run like heck to where you think his second shot will land. Thus, while missing the second shot, you will at least be able to see his first and third. Still with me?

Watch That Loud Coughing

If you're lucky you will be able to see the master on the greens, but here is where you may get in trouble. After a mad scramble for a front row view, you will have to control your wheezing and coughing. Arnie's Army is disciplined around the greens and so silent you can hear a pin dropped by a butterfingered caddy. So if you cough or wheeze too loudly, you will be shushed and stared right out of the Army. Remember, silence is golden.

You repeat this game of leap frog over 7,000 yards, after which you then run to the 19th hole to get a good position at the bar. It will have been an experience that demands considerable refreshments.

Me? I'm going to follow someone like Kermit Zarley or Pete Brown or John Schlee and take it easy. I'm too old to fight and too fat to run.

His Aces Come In Bunches

ACE OF ACES — Speaking of pasture pool, Syl Auteri of the Mill Valley Men's Golf Club rates as Marin County's Ace of Aces — at least for 1967.

That was a very good year for Auteri, a College of Marin alumnus who now lives in San Mateo. While most golfers would settle for one hole-in-one in a lifetime, Auteri had three aces in the last 12 months. Starting with one on the Mill Valley course last Feb. 18. Then on June 11 he aced the 168-yard second hole at San Mateo Muni Course and repeated there with one stroke on the 170-yard 14th hole last month.

CORRECTION — A story in last week's I-J stated that Novato's 59-41 victory over Drake was the North Marin high school's first-ever in varsity basketball over the San Anselmo rivals.

Tain't so: The Novato Hornets beat Drake twice in 1964 when they won 10 straight games and tied San Rafael for the Marin County Athletic League championship. Apologies to the '64 Hornets.

WET BOGEY FOR ARNIE — With a smashing splash, Arnold Palmer blasts his way out of water at edge of a pond on the 11th hole in the Pro-Am at Silverado Country Club. Arnie had a bogey 4 on the par three hole, his only bogey in a fine round of 68 yesterday. (UPI Telephoto)

Theologians Win In Rec Basketball

The Theologians beat Stop 'n' Go 49-36 and Indian Valley edged Sausalito Pharmacy 50-45 last night in San Rafael Recreation Department's B-1 adult basketball league at Terra Linda High School gym.

Barry Hayward's 23 points for Indian Valley and Don Hanson's 18 for Stop 'n' Go were high efforts of the night.

Dismal Outlook For Oakland '5'

OAKLAND (AP — The Oakland Oaks' prospects of breaking a five game losing streak are not the brightest in the world—they meet ABA Eastern Division leader Minnesota tonight at 8 o'clock in the Oakland Arena.

Losers of four in a row on a road trip, the Oaks fared no better when they reached their home arena. Dallas beat them Tuesday night 119-112.

Oakland used 10 players against the Chaparrals in an effort to check the slide that threatens to take them from fifth place in the Western Division right into the cellar now occupied by Anaheim.

Senator Calls For Amateur Athlete's 'Bill Of Rights'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Robert P. Griffin, R-Mich., says the time has come for a bill of rights for amateur athletes to protect them from the feuding of rival sports federations.

He announced he was introducing today a bill that would ban the disqualification from competition of any amateur athlete because he had engaged in a prior meet staged by a rival organization.

The legislation also would prevent sports associations from imposing what Griffin called unreasonable restraints on an athlete's freedom to participate in sports events.

An athlete could go into court for an injunction and violations of the bill would be punishable by a fine of up to $1,000 and six months' imprisonment.

Griffin's bill is aimed at the protracted feud between the NCAA and the AAU over control of track and field meets.

He said the feud "threatens to seriously cripple our Olympic team this year. Just as it has threatened to do in the past."

"The rights and interests of the individual athletes have been too long ignored," Griffin said in a prepared Senate speech. "The patience of the Congress and the American people is worn thin by those who have made athletes the innocent victims of a senseless war."

Congress established an arbitration board in 1965 in an effort to settle the dispute. The board is expected to submit its report shortly, but Griffin said there is little reason for believing the parties will accept the decision.

The Senator cited seven recent cases involving suspensions of more than 30 athletes who took part in track and field events sponsored by competing associations.

"The endless, bitter wrangling among the sanctioning groups has led me to conclude that athletes need legislative protection so that their freedom to compete in amateur events will not be impaired," he said.

Griffin was the second congressman to rap the AAU-NCAA feud in as many days. Yesterday, Rep. Thomas M. Rees, D-Calif., said the fight "could decimate our U.S. Olympic team and ruin this country's chances in Mexico City this fall."

Rees said he was studying the possibility of legislation to establish a federally chartered citizens' organization with sole jurisdiction over amateur athletics.

In Los Altos, the president of the U.S. Track and Field Federation, the arm of the NCAA in the dispute, called on the Justice Department to investigate the AAU for "clear and cogent violation of Sherman Antitrust laws."

The Rev. Wilfred H. Crowley said if the attorney general did not take action, the federation would go to court "to establish freedom and constitutional rights" for athletes.

Crowley was reacting to an AAU warning that any athlete competing in an open Federation meet in New York next month might lose his eligibility for international meets, including the Olympics.

Warriors Having It Rough

OAKLAND (UPI)— The San Francisco Warriors could smile about a few things today despite the fact that they lost their third game in as many days.

But a few things went right for them, too. For instance, St. Louis also lost so the Warriors (31-19) stayed four games back of the Hawks in their fight for Western Division honors.

RETURN HOME

But most important was the performance of Nate Thurmond.

The big pivot man, key to the Warriors' chances, had played his worst games of the year Monday and Tuesday against Boston and Cincinnati. His oft-injured back was aching again and the points and rebounds were few.

31 POINTS

But he roared for 31 points and was a tiger on the boards again last night and looks ready to go the rest of the way. In fact, the Warriors might have won at Detroit had they not tired after leading 103-102 with five minutes to go.

Then Dave Bing and Eddie Miles took over and led Detroit to victory. Bing, the league's top scorer, hit 31 to lead the Pistons.

Smallest NHL Crowd For Seals

OAKLAND (UPI) — The Pittsburgh Penguins moved into a tie for second place in the Western Division of the National Hockey League last night when they came from behind to tie the Oakland Seals 1-1.

The Penguins, with 37 points, are even with Minnesota, which was blanked by St. Louis Wednesday night. The Seals remained firmly mired in the basement, with 26 points, 10 behind Los Angeles and St. Louis.

POWER PLAYS

After a scoreless first period, each team scored on a power play. Goaltenders Charlie Hodge and Les Binkley time and again turned back offensive threats with beautiful saves.

John Brenneman, who came to the Seals four games ago in a trade, got his third goal in as many contests when he opened the scoring at 9:55 of the middle period on a power play.

The Penguins got it back three minutes later when Andy Bathgate, the western division leading goalgetter, got number 16 while the Seals were playing short handed.

The Seals have yet to beat Pittsburgh in six games, but have managed three ties against the Penguins.

Alcindor Remains On Doubtful List

LOS ANGELES (AP) — UCLA's Bruins seek their 47th straight victory at the expense of Portland tonight—with or without the injured Lew Alcindor.

EYE PATCH

Alcindor suffered the injury last Friday night when the Bruins played California's Bears. In a rebound play with the Bears' forward Tom Henderson, the Bruin star's eye was poked.

Alcindor was confined to clinics for 3½ days after the injury and has had no practice except a few running drills, Wooden said.

"He can't do anything that might cause that eye to be jarred, but he can do a little running—possibly some quick starts and stops," the coach said.

FACTORS

Two factors determine whether Alcindor will play the nation's No. 2 team, Houston, said Wooden—"readjustment of the eye to normal light and his stamina."

Referring to Saturday's game, Wooden said, "He probably would be playing before the largest audience ever to see a basketball game—counting national television, and I want him in top shape.

"Also, the fact we're playing a team as good as Houston demands Lew should be at his best, too," he added.

Portland has won only one of 14 games this season. Last year, UCLA trampled the Pilots 122-57.

Hayes Cancels Special Sprint

LOS ANGELES (AP) — What was to be a featured halftime attraction at the Pro-Bowl game Sunday, a 100-yard dash between Homer Jones and Bob Hayes, has been canceled.

Hayes said yesterday he would not run.

The Dallas Cowboy flanker said he was afraid if he ran an all-out sprint in uniform it might lead to a pulled muscle. He said he didn't want to take the chance. Jones plays for the New York Giants.

The two had planned to try and break the unofficial record of 10.5 seconds set by Bob Boyd of the Rams in 1953.

Two Perfect Games Rolled

SAN JOSE (AP) — Two 300 games highlighted opening day performances in the Professional Bowlers Association $50,000 San Jose Open Tournament.

Limongello was in second place with 2,837.

Barrow Key Part Of Tam Success

By GARY TISCHLER

Something is happening at Tamalpais High.

The Indians are leading the Marin County Athletic League. Ask Drake, Redwood and Marin Catholic, considered the top stumbling stones in the way of the Indians.

AND THEY CAN play without one of their stars, althought the bench is about as deep as a baby bath. They played well when Pat Schafer, the center of distinction in the league, sat out a good part of the game with foul trouble against Galileo with both high-scoring Floyd Jackson and starter Ron Blasingame out of the game.

Yes, Schafer is the man on the boards, the fellow on defense, the big scorer. So is Jackson, easily the jumpingest jack in the league and one of its most improved players.

BUT IT IS Barrow, one of the top senior all-around athletes in the County along with Don Alvarado of Drake, who gives when you need it most.

He has always been an outstanding defensive player. Last year, on a team dominated by long-shooting, high-scoring Steve Woodward and Schafer, Leroy was an underrated but vital key to a good team that could have been better.

He still does not score a lot of points in every game. But he'll get you 20 when nobody else is getting it, when you're two down, when the other team is rallying, — when you need it.

He has deceptive moves. He rebounds well, shoots well, especially in the clutch, is a great shot blocker anywhere on the court.

So you stop Schafer, you stop Jackson. That's the time you watch out for Leroy.

SPEAKING OF Alvarado, not only is he a fine athlete, but he's thoughtful — a good rejoinder to anyone who says that today's kids are going to the devil and points south.

"Gentlemen of the I-J,

"I would like to thank you for the sketch and certificate (honoring him as MCAL player of the year) you gave me.

"I would also like to thank you for all the kind things said about me this past year. I only wish the rest of the 1967 Pirates could share in the honors also.

"I hope that I will be able to continue to play football and represent Marin County in the best possible way.

Sincerely,
Don Alvarado"

WHERE ARE THEY now dept.

Paul Lee, All-MCAL halfback for Terra Linda's 1966 co-champions, was named most valuable player for UC Santa Barbara's frosh team last season as a defensive halfback.

End Greg Ozckus and center Bill Verran, both all-leaguers in 1966 from Terra Linda, were also frosh starters at Santa Barbara.

Hialeah Track Action Resumes

COMBINED AP & UPI

MIAMI — The horses were off and running at Hialeah Park today and the owners and trainers will be getting a larger share of the track's take than they received last year.

Today's opening is one day late because of a boycott by the horsemen who refused to run their thoroughbreads unless their demands for a bigger cut were Hialeah President Gene Mori balked and he missed opening day yesterday when the jockeys joined the horsemen in a sympathy move.

But Mori gave in last night after thousands of persons were turned away from the track's turnstiles.

Rule Changes To Cut Down Grid Injuries

MIAMI (AP) — Three types of guys who knowingly—but legally—contribute to college football's high toll of injuries have been outlawed by the Football Rules Committee of the National Collegiate Athletic Association.

TRICKY COACHES

These maneuvers, condoned by tricky coaches, have led to many injuries, Ivan B. Williamson, the committee chairman said yesterday, and prohibiting them "will make football a safer game."

Under new rules, the safety who gives a fair catch signal will not be allowed to block while the ball is in play. If he does, his team draws a 15-yard penalty.

In the past, clipping has been legal in a zone three feet deep along the interior line. In the future, no player more than five yards outside this zone may enter it and throw a clip. The penalty will be the usual 15 yards.

To prevent sucker shifts, no lineman will be allowed to move before the snap of the ball once he has assumed a position with a hand on the ground. A shift will bring a five-yard penalty.

KNEE INJURIES

Dr. O. B. Murphy, team physician of the University of Kentucky, told the committee clipping is the biggest cause of knee injuries. And the committee heard a report that the sucker shift was causing many other injuries to players hit before they can return to their positions and get set for the play.

The committee, yielding to a clamor from coaches, also abolished the punt coverage rule it put into effect last season.

The one-year-old rule, which allowed only ends and backs of a punting team to go downfield with the snap of the ball, was intended to discourage the fair catch and add excitement to the game, Williamson said.

PRESSURE

But pressure from coaches to go back to the old rule, which permitted everybody to go with the snap of the ball, succeeded, although the new rule did not lead, as they expected, to a rash of injuries among ends and backs.

The tackle-eligible pass play was eliminated from the game. Williamson said some coaches had been getting illegal receivers downfield by putting numbers in the 80s, usually reserved for ends, on tackles.

Now, centers, guards and tackles must wear numbers between 50 and 79 and no player wearing those numbers will be eligible for a pass.

SHORTER TIMEOUTS

Under other new rules, quarterbacks may communicate with any number of coaches on the sideline during a charged time out, instead of just one coach; the timeout period is shortened from two to 1½ minutes, and the clock will be stopped whenever a team makes a first down.

No safety will be allowed when a player intercepting a pass is carried into his end zone by his own momentum. If he does not choose to run out of the end zone, the ball will be put into play at the spot where the interception was made.

Cerrudo Sits It Out

Ron Cerrudo of San Rafael did not play in yesterday's Silverado Pro-Am because the event is only open to the top 50 money winners. Cerrudo only turned pro in October of last year.

Sophomores Setting Pace In Scoring

NEW YORK (AP) — Two hot shot sophomores, Pete Maravich of Louisiana State and Calvin Murphy of Niagara, continue to set the pace in major college basketball scoring.

Maravich tops the individual scoring race with 540 points and an average of 45.0 for 12 games in the weekly statistics announced today by the National Collegiate Sports Services. It is the fourth straight week that the son of the LSU coach has been No. 1 nationally.

Murphy is second with an average of 39.7 on 476 points for 12 games. Elvin Hayes of the Houston Cougars, who goes against top-ranked UCLA Saturday night, is third on the scoring parade with a 32.5 average.

Lamonica And Mates Give Western Stars The Edge

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (UPI) —Quarterback Daryle Lamonica and a host of other Oakland Raiders today established the West as a solid favorite over the East for Sunday's American Football League (AFL) all-star game in the Gator Bowl.

West Coach Lou Saban of the Denver Broncos tried to talk his way out of the favorite's role, but conceded the Raiders gave him an edge since they came directly here from their losing Super Bowl battle with Green Bay while the other all-stars have had long layoffs.

"You can't really say. The others may have benefited more by the rest," Saban countered. "But, to be honest, if given the choice, I'd pick the men who have been working out every time."

Saban will have Lamonica, the AFL's leading passer and most valuable player, Oakland fullback Hewritt Dixon, exciting Kansas City halfback Mike Garrett and his own flanker, Al Denson, in the West starting lineup Sunday.

Seven other Raiders, three in the offensive line and four on defense, also will start.

The right side of the West defensive front four has Kansas City's Buck Buchanan at tackle and Oakland's mustached Ben Davidson at end. Both are 6-foot-7 and weigh 280 pounds.

East Coach Joe Collier of the Buffalo Bills has placed his hopes on flashy New York Jets quarterback Joe Namath and his three favorite season-long receivers to offset the West's obvious advantage.

"Joe's always capable of a hot day," Collier said of the former Alabama star who passed for a record 4,007 yards last season. "He's got to have one of his good days Sunday if we're to have a real chance."

The East has some pretty good runners too. Boston's Jim Nance, the 1967 AFL rushing leader with 1,216 yards, and Houston's Hoyle Granger, No. 2 in rushing with 1,194 yards, will share the full-back slot. Buffalo's Keith Lincoln will start at halfback.

But Namath should have no difficulty getting back in tune with his receivers. Split end George Sauer, flanker Don Maynard and tight end Pete Lammons caught a total of 191 passes for 3,138 yards for the Jets this past season.

The West holds a 4-1 lead in the AFL all-star series with the East winning for the first time last year, 30-23, on the passing of Boston's Babe Parilli.

Ticket sales have been moving slowly, but stood at 27,000 at midweek and game officials were predicting a crowd of 35,000—largest in the history of the game. The 10:30 a.m. (PST) contest will be televised nationally (NBC).

One member of the new Cincinnati Bengals will start in the game. He's linebacker Frank Buncom whom the Bengals obtained from San Diego earlier this week in the AFL expansion draft.

Bluder Bowls 299 Game

Gene Bluder of San Rafael came as close as you can to a perfect game at Country Club Bowl.

A 185 average blowler, Bluder rolled a 299 game Tuesday night in the 900 Classic League when his last ball hit the headpin too solid. There was a scramble of pins and when the pin-setter came down, the seven-pin was still standing. His 11 strikes were all in the 1-3 pocket.

Bluder, an electrical engineer for Bechtel Corp. in San Francisco, started off his night with a 211, followed with a 202, then finished with his big one, giving him a 712 series.

And Bluder's 712 series wasn't the only 700 during the last week's action at the San Rafael lanes.

Jack Lundahl, a San Rafael postal worker, had games of 215, 225 and 265 in the same league for a 705 three-gamer. Lundahl is packing a 193 average. Ray Miller, again in the 900 Classic, rolled a 278 line. Connie Unroe led the women, rolling a 583 series in the TGIF League.

BOWLING TIPS

By MARION LADEWIG

Getting to the foul line ahead of the ball is one of the most common faults in bowling. The bowler who does this loses all the momentum built up during the approach and must throw almost entirely with her arm and shoulder. The result is a sort of "whipping" motion, instead of a well-coordinated delivery. Much of the fault probably lies in the first step or two. Make sure you are pushing the ball away with the first small step, then slow your approach until you regain your timing.

Dick Read Named Vice President Of Coach Group

In the first small junior college all-state football team also picked by the coaches, College of Marin placed two Tars on the first offensive teams.

Receiver Honor Jackson, a Golden Valley Conference first-teamer two years running, and Tim Harr, the leading rusher and scorer for the Tars this year, were named to the first team.

Marin Coed Wins In Gymnastics

Jean, the only College of Marin girl entered, was competing against girls from University of Calfornia at Davis and Chico State.

Miss Lew was first in vaulting, second in balance beam, third in free exercise and fourth in uneven parallel bars.

There's Still Chance To Get In Some Shooting For Coots

STEVENS

If you failed to get your share of ducks and geese, if you haven't greased and put away the trusty fowling piece, and if you still have a yen to garner a mess of waterfowl, than heed the following late release from the federal government:

"The federal government has issued a crop depredation order authorizing the shooting of coots in 17 Central Valley Counties." The order was issued by John D. Findlay of Portland, regional director of the U.S. Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife, effective Jan. 11. It will continue in effect through May 19, unless the Bureau finds earlier that the depredation no longer exists, and terminates the order.

UNDER THE order, it is legal to shoot coots in the counties of Butte, Colusa, Fresno, Kern, Kings, Madera, Merced, Placer, Sacramento, San Joaquin, Solano, Stanislaus, Sutter, Tulare, Yolo and Yuba.

There is no bag limit and shooting hours are sunrise to sunset. Only shotguns not larger than 10 guauge may be used. You must have a valid 1967-8 California hunting license, but no federal stamp is needed. Under the depredation order, hunters are subject to State Fish and Game laws and regulations.

SO — DO I hear some waterfowl shooters ask, "Who wants to shoot coots?" You can't eat them, so why spend money on shells just to kill and let lay a coot?"

Contrast such remarks on the enthusiastic remark made by a number of hunters who have moved to California from the east and the central west: "Where I come from we treat a coot just the same as a mallard or canvasback duck. They are almost as hard to kill as a duck and they are very excellent eating, just as good as a duck any day."

THE ABOVE STATEMENT is a word-for-word opinion of a doctor I met. I say amen to the opinion.

Here are a few tips on preparing coots for the table. Young birds best for broiling or frying: only young birds should be so cooked. If, when you press down on the backbone of a coot (or duck or goose) and it is flexible, the bird is young and fit for broiling or frying. If the bird is old, make a stew of it. Believe me, a coot stew is a dish for the epicure.

As with all game meat a coot should be medium well done, flavorful and tender, not dry and tough. In roasting a coot, cover loosely with a greased cloth or aluminum foil and baste frequently to keep the outer surface moist. If you like your coot or duck with a crisp skin, remove cloth or foil and baste bird often with fat and sprinkle with flour after each basting.

SPLIT A DRESSED bird in half and flatten the breast bone. Cook small birds — duck or coots — whole; rub pieces of cut surface with garlic or lemon or lime juice and brush with salted fat 30 minutes before broiling. Pre heat broiler compartment to 350 degreees (moderate heat).

To maintain a moderate temperature during broiling, leave the broiler door slightly ajar. Lay pieces, skin or skinned side down; whole coots, breast down. Place pan below flame so top of the meat is about 2 to 3 inches below it. Baste every five minutes with drippings. Broil 25 to 35 minutes. When browned on surface, pull pan partly out, sprinkle meat with pepper, salt and paprika and turn to brown other side.

I HAVE A very fine recipe for a coot stew. If you wish a copy, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope and I'll oblige.

Top Field To Compete In Athens 600-Yarder

A compact, but swift field will compete in the 600-yard run at the second annual Athens Invitatinal Track and Field Meet at the Oakland Coliseum Arena at 7:45 p.m. Friday, Jan. 26.

Evans has been the best in the business in the 440 for two straight years. He's run the second fastest time ever recorded in the quarter-mile — 44.8, bettered only by classmate Tommie Smith's 44.7. Lee twice has won the National AAU outdoor 440 and took the event in last year's Pan-Am Games. Already this year he captured the 440 in the Examiner games at the Cow Palace.

McGrady captured the 600 both at the Cow Palace and K of C Relays in Boston last weekend. He holds the world indoor 600 record of 1:09 and figures to give Evans the toughest argument in the Athens races.

McCrary, Whitney and Wyatt all have fine records as intermediate hurdlers. McCrary is Pac-8 defending champion in that hurdle class and a member of the U.C. mile relay team. Whitney, however, was rated as the world's top intermediate hurdler in 1967. Wyatt was a hurdle star at Oregon State before joining the Athens team.

Athens Sports sponsors the Invitational as a benefit for amatuer athletics. The big track and field event is being guided this year by U.C. Berkeley track coach Sam Bell, meet director, and Olympic champion Bob Schul, director of Athens Sports.

Tickets, priced at $5.50, $4 and $2.50, are now on sale at these agencies:

Bay Ticket Office, Kaiser Center Mall, and Abe Rose, Leamington Hotel, both Oakland; Athens Club; Sherman Clay in Hayward; Crane and Downtown Center box offices in San Francisco; San Jose Box Office, and Palo Alto Box Office at Town and Country Village.

Today is Thursday, Jan. 18, the 18th day of 1968 with 348 to follow.

The moon is between its full phase and its last quarter. The morning star is Venus. The evening stars are Mars, Saturn and Jupiter.

On this day in history:

In 1943, Moscow announced that the German siege of Leningrad had been lifted. It had lasted since the fall of 1941.

A thought for the day—American writer Henry David Thoreau once said, "That man is the richest whose pleasures are the cheapest."

TIME AND TIDE

Department of Commerce, United States Coast Geodetic Survey. Times and heights of tides at San Francisco (Golden Gate):

The column of heights gives the elevation in feet of each tide above or below the plane of Coast Survey chart soundings. The depths are always additive to the chart depths unless preceded by a minus sign (-), when the numbers are subtracted from the depth given in the chart. General Counting Not Good Enough When Equipped With A Long Suit

When an opponent has length in one suit he tends to be short in other suits. This tendency is a better guide than none at all, but there are surer methods.

TOP HEARTS

West led three top hearts, and South ruffed the third. Declarer led a trump to dummy's king and returned a trump to try a finesse with the jack, reasoning that West's unusual length in hearts tended to make him short in spades.

It was a reasonable idea, but not good enough. West won with the queen of spades and got out safely with a club. South eventually went down when he had to lose a diamond trick.

NO HURRY

There was no reason for South to draw trumps in such a hurry. After ruffing the third heart South should lead out two top clubs and the ace of diamonds. When these get by, there is clear sailing ahead.

South cashes the third high club, ready to overruff in dummy if West can ruff. Declarer next leads a low diamond, ready to play low from dummy if West ruffs. Actually, West follows suit to each of these plays.

AFFORD FINESSE

After taking dummy's king of diamonds, declarer cashes the king of spades and returns a low spade from dummy. South can now afford to finesse with the jack of spades, knowing that he will make his contract whether the finesse wins of loses.

If the spade finesse won, South would of course be home. When it loses, West is left with only hearts in his hand. He must lead a heart, and dummy ruffs while South discards his losing diamond.

Glass Accidents Soar In Nation

NEW YORK (UPI)—More than 100,000 persons are hurt each year when they walk into glass.

They mistake it for open space in all-glass doors, panels and bathtub enclosures, says the American Automobile Association (AAA). Today's Secretary, the magazine, reporting on this hazard says that most of the injuries are not serious. But the U.S. Public Health Service has suggested that hotels use decals or stickers so guests can recognize the glass barriers.

Sausalito Printing Company Files Corporate Documents

A recently opened Sausalito printing business at 11 Industrial Center Building — Westway Printers and Lithographers — has now been incorparated by its principals Ramon J. West and Richard Jensen.

West, with a degree in printing from the Rochester Institute of Technology, lives in Mill Valley. He was also previously sales manager for a San Francisco printing firm. Jensen, a San Rafael resident, was with Commonwealth Insurance Co. before going into the printing business.

THERE IS a new office for Taft Travel in San Rafael — now moved from 532 Third Street to 910 Irwin Street.

A BUSINESS which has moved its headquarters to San Rafael from Portland is Pacific International, Ltd. It occupies offices in its own newly constructed building at 1466 Lincoln Avenue.

The company was founded at Orinda in 1951 and moved to Portland in 1963. It specializes in bedwetting control, selling its services to parents through licensees throughout the United States and Canada.

The new San Rafael office is staffed by 18 persons. Robert Stearns, president, is living in San Rafael, and Henry Grant, vice president, has taken residence in Novato. The company employs specialized equipment and a staff trained to recognize varying symptoms and to instruct parents in equipment use.

TOLLYCRAFT'S 50-foot Discoverer, sent over by Loch Lomond Yacht Sales, San Rafael, may be the biggest cruiser at the San Francisco Boat Show this week, but Barbary Coast Yacht Co., San Rafael, has the largest sailboat — a Kettenburg 41.

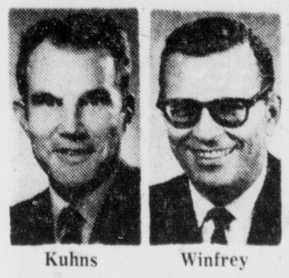
Another familiar name is Mahrajah Water Skis — no longer at Sausalito, but now in Healdsburg.

KURT BEIER of Novato has been promoted from assistant auditor to assistant vice president in the operations department of Pacific National Bank of San Francisco. He joined the bank in 1964 and was previously with the Chase Manhattan Bank in Frankfort, Germany.



Kuhns Winfrey

LESTER L. KUHNS has been appointed general manager of the San Rafael office of New York Life Insurance Co. He joined the company in Iowa in 1958, became an agency assistant in 1960 and assistant manager of the Davenport general office in 1962. He, his wife and their two children will make their home in Glenwood, San Rafael.

RAY ALLAN WINFREY of Mill Valley has been appointed a general agent in San Francisco for Pacific National Life Assurance Co. and will be located at 44 Montgomery Street. Before entering the insurance field he spent several years in hotel convention sales management.

NEW EDITION of the California Manufacturers Register, with companies listed alphabetically, geographically and categorically according to products and services, executives' names and other information, will be issued about the end of this month. The directory is published by the Times Mirror Press in Los Angeles. Donald L. Gilbert of Mill Valley is the local representative, with offices at 1485 Bayshore Boulevard, San Francisco.

Homebuilding Off Sharply During December; Up In '67

WASHINGTON (AP) — Homebuilding activity declined 20.9 per cent during December but for 1967 generally the industry experienced a gain of almost 11 per cent from its previous year's recession, the Commerce Department reported yesterday.

The December drop was the first since last June and lowered the annual rate of housing starts for the month to 1,256,000 units. That was the lowest level since June.

Private housing starts for the year as a whole increased to 1,291,000 units, up 10.8 per cent from 1966 when a shortage of mortgage money and high interest rates sent homebuilding into a tailspin.

It said building permits were issued in December at an annual rate of 1,362,000 units, up 17.6 per cent from November. The level of building permits normally indicates future homebuilding activity.

The decline in housing starts was general throughout the nation, the department said.

Market In Retreat At End Of Day

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market advanced in early trading today in reaction to President Johnson's State of the Union message but retreated by the close.

The averages lost most of their early gain. But advances of individual stocks over declines maintained an upper hand.

Steels, motors and chemicals declined. Rubbers, rails and drugs were mostly higher. Some groups which advanced in early trading turned mixed.

Trading was heavy and by 2 p.m. nearly 10 million shares had changed hands. At the peak of the trading surge the New York Stock Exchange ticker tape trailed by three minutes in reporting floor transactions.

Prices advanced on the American Stock Exchange.

Brokers said the market got off to a good start mainly because there were no surprises in Johnson's proposals to Congress. His call for bigger spending, they said, spurred stock buying.

United California Bank Earnings Set New Record

United California Bank's net operating earnings for 1967 reached a record high of $24,512,266 — an increase of 12.7 per cent over the $21,758,517 earned the previous year. Total resources at year end exceeded $4 billion.

Earnings per share were $4.07 compared with $3.65 in 1966. Fourth-quarter earnings increased 21 per cent to $6,924,767 or $1.15 a share compared with 1966 fourth-quarter earnings of 95 cents a share.

Deposits at year-end were $3,426,526,592 — up 12 per cent over a year ago. Loans were $2,340,256,612, compared with $2,216,948,475 a year ago — up 5.6 per cent.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

Convertible Stocks Fine, But Mostly Are Too High

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. In a fairly recent book on investments, the author strongly recommends convertible bonds as being the ideal investment. His arguments sound very good. Are convertibles really as good as that and, if so, why are they so little emphasized in other literature I have read on securities? B.B.

A. The author of the book you mention is quite correct. I like convertibles when they offer a good yield — which gives downside protection — and when they have a good chance of reaching their exchange value. The only trouble is that securities meeting these qualifications are very hard to find today.

I know of none that I can recommend at present without reservations.

RCA convertible 4½s have some merit, since they offer twice the yield of the common stock. They sell, though, at a substantial premium over their conversion price and, unless fair yield is a must, I would prefer the stock for which they are exchangeable.

In general the time to buy convertibles is when they offer a yield that will help sustain their price if the stock market falls off. At that level, they also will respond strongly to increased prices of the issues for which they are exchangeable.

Q. I am a career woman and have invested in First National Bank of Chicago and Holiday Inns. I would also like to invest in Republic Corp. What is your advice? — R.S.

A. Republic Corp. has had a sensational rise, going from a low of 4½ to a year-end high of 74½ in 1967. No dividends are paid and, although management has done a fine job in turning this situation around, I consider the shares a distinct speculation at current levels.

You have bought two stocks of high quality and I advise you to continue that policy. I suggest Walgreen, a high-grade issue showing a strong growth rate.

Novato Bond Issues Not Of Equal Merit

Two bond issues, totaling $8 million, will be before Novato voters in a special election Tuesday.

The combined total of the two measures is the largest municipal bonding proposal ever presented at one time in Marin.

Measure A would authorize a $5,750,000 bond issue for street improvements. Measure B would authorize an issue of $2,250,000 for parks.

THE ISSUES are being presented at a time when the climate for passage of bond issues does not appear too favorable. The last five bond proposals placed before Marin voters — school bonds in Tamalpais High School District, San Rafael High School and Elementary School Districts, Sausalito School District and San Anselmo School District — all went down to defeat last October. None came very close to the two-thirds favorable vote required for passage.

The Novato City Council believes, however, that the time is right.

A citizen group called Novatans for Better Streets and Parks is pushing for passage of the issues. In its "information manual," it calls for favorable votes on both and does not present them as separate matters. However, they appear separately on the ballot. Each must stand or fall on its own merits.

THE "WHY" IS NOT the same for both issues.

Since its incorporation eight years ago, Novato has grown rapidly — by far the most rapidly of any city in Marin. It has not had the funds to bring the narrow, winding streets it inherited from the county up to city standards. It has spent its gasoline tax revenues on street improvements and in a few cases received some county assistance, but this has not been enough.

The city public works department has proposed a street improvement program over the next decade estimated to cost $10,820,000. It figures that part of the improvements would be financed from gasoline taxes and part through assessment districts. To complete the job, it figures the $5,750,000 bond issue is needed.

The need for streets is all too obvious. A "yes" vote for Measure A is indicated.

AS TO PARKS: Novato two years ago levied a special 30-cent park and recreation tax and out of the proceeds bought the old Pioneer Cemetery property and two lots known as Arroyo Avichi Park. There has been no development at the cemetery site. Arroyo Avichi Park and the former Lions Club park at Stafford Lake have been developed by civic organizations rather than the city. A park site in San Marin has been given to the city but not developed.

The $2,250,000 bond issue would add to these five more acres in San Marin, a 20-acre park on McClay Road, nine acres on Novato Creek, and 17 more acres by Stafford Lake. It would also finance development.

It also includes $330,000 for playground development at four school sites. This would include irrigation facilities and turfing.

Some of these outlays—particularly those at the schools—appear unduly high. Also, parks would saddle the city with considerable maintenance costs which are not figured in the 40-cent tax rate to retire the bonds. (The opposite is true of the streets projects, as the streets should be cheaper to maintain when improved.)

The park bond proposal appears rather visionary to us. Perhaps it does not appear so to Novatans, but we cannot recommended a "yes" vote on Measure B.

Call It Biogeochemistry

Every Marin gardener knows it is simple to change the color of hydrangea blossoms from pink to blue by adding alum to the soil, and that he can control the color of his plants' foliage by adding or withholding certain minerals, and the same is true for the size of the plants.

Now scientists are beginning to use these facts to pinpoint deposits of minerals beneath the roots of trees growing in the wilder parts of the world. The name of this new science is biogeochemistry.

Some scientists are predicting that prospecters, using sophisticated camera techniques, will soon be able to identify mineral resources from photographs of vegetation taken from low-flying airplanes.

Just imagine a grizzled ol' sourdough sidling up to the storekeeper and asking, "Buddy, would you grubstake me to a case of canned beans and a Beechcraft?"

DON'T OVERLOOK THE NEED FOR PERSEVERANCE

Fritz Kreisler was approached backstage by an enthusiastic music fan who cried: "Mr. Kreisler, I'd give my life to play as you do!"

Quietly he replied: "Madam, I did."

Achievement requires sacrifice. Nobody knows this better than the dedicated father or mother. Likewise the devoted artist, the struggling writer and the selfless public servant all pay a price for whatever they may accomplish. Long hours, loneliness and frustration are part of the game. But it's worth the effort!

Your children will have to come to grips with a complex and challenging world.

Teach them to treat all people with respect . . . Encourage their God-given idealism . . . Praise their efforts on behalf of others . . . Place a value on healthy competition . . . Point out that new ideas are rooted in honored traditions of the past.

Help them to keep up with a changing world and change it for the better.

"By your endurance you will gain your lives."

Time For Great Powers To Act?

(Reprinted from the Christian Science Monitor)

Is the time propitious for the United States to propose to the Soviet Union a joint initiative in solving the world's larger problems of war and peace?

Former British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan, in a major New York speech, has urged such a joint effort, extending well beyond a Vietnam settlement. And the very concept lifts hopes depressed by the long stalemate in Southeast Asia, the relentless nuclear arms competition, and the growling Middle East confrontation.

The British, accustomed to great power diplomacy, put exceptional faith in what might be accomplished by the joint efforts of the world's two superpowers. Both Mr. Macmillan and Prime Minister Harold Wilson have traveled to Moscow to explain America to Soviet leaders. Mr. Wilson, in his two days of Moscow talks in late January, will again no doubt seek to relay President Johnson's attitudes, as well as try to reactivate the British-Soviet Geneva cochairmanship on Southeast Asia.

Earlier this month Lord Avon, another British elder statesman, argued that the Soviets, wary of China, must be wanting to see the Vietnam war finished off. He proposed an internationally negotiated settlement in which the "powers concerned" would guarantee the territories of South Vietnam and its neighbors.

It has been almost an article of faith that Washington and Moscow can reach no detente so long as the Vietnam fighting persists — though President Johnson had useful talks with Premier Kosygin at the Glassboro "summit" last year. Mr. Macmillan contends that this argument puts the cart before the horse. "The solution of the Asian problem could well be the fruit and not the precondition of a new and determined effort to reach agreement with Soviet Russia," he says.

He goes on to urge that the great powers should join in strengthening the United Nations, with its Security Council "armed with military strength, and a joint military staff, and acting to preserve peace among all nations."

The total difficulty of local, piecemeal solutions tends to give luster to Mr. Macmillan's proposal for a fresh approach by the world's most powerful leaders, at the very highest level.

Court House Seen As Valued Symbol

Editor, Independent-Journal:

To me the most outstanding old buildings in San Rafael are the Court House and San Rafael Mission. The Court House may only be symbolic but it stands for justice and plays a major part in the history of Marin County.

Now I read that it is the intent of our elected officials to sell the Court House property for the mere sum of $700,000. It should not really matter if this were a million dollars. But most of our citizens probably feel that the money for the Court House sale will help alleviate their tax burden. Nothing could be further from the truth.

If the present course of our elected officials and the complacency of the people in general continues, it will surely bring about our demise.

It has been a part of our great heritage to preserve something of our past. About the only thing we have left in San Rafael is our Court House.

As a citizen and taxpayer I can not sit idly by and watch the Court House be destroyed. Therefore, I feel it is my duty to try to do something to prevent this from happening. I do not know if there is time nor if this is the best way; but I do intend to circulate a petition in order to try to save our Court House from destruction.

Through the history of man it has been proven many times that we can not abandon the basic principles and ideals upon which a form of government was founded and expect it to survive.

'That's Big Dirty Jungle Out There'

Editor, Independent-Journal:

What an education in reading the Independent-Journal each nite . . . Our little community of 201,288 (figures as of the Planning department, 1/18/68) sounds like Little Chicago, or a Mickey Spillane thriller, or would you settle for "Dope Taven," U.S.A.?

Let's face it things like this go on all over the United States but I think most of the citizens of this area will have to admit that it's getting prevalent in Marin.

I've gotten to the point where I am sorry my son can read the paper. He reads where a suspect has been picked up for using dope, or pushing it, whatever may be the case, and lo and behold an item will appear stating that this person has gotten a suspended sentence or a judge has may be "slapped his wrist" . . . The law enforcement agencies do one heck of a good job in this county and I take my hat off to them; the breakdown it appears to me is in the courts, and with the sentencing.

What I as a resident and a citizen wants to know is what is it going to take to get some justice back into the law? You can't go back to vigilante law, for that would be taking the law into your own hands and we're supposed to be a civilized nation.

I sure hate to have to tell my kids, "that's a big dirty jungle out there," but seems I have to.

I guess we could move to the Okeefinoke (sic) swamps in the Everglades. The only things you'd have to worry about would be the Seminoles, water moccasins, and quicksand, and compared to what is going on in this "little community," I'd say the odds are about even!

TRY AND STOP ME

By BENNETT CERF

DIZZY DEAN, colorful star of the St. Louis Cardinals of yesteryear, was a tough man to impress. Just before he strode to the mound at the old Polo Grounds in New York one afternoon, Dizzy's manager pulled him aside and whispered, "You know who that dame is sitting with the baseball commissioner in that box behind first? That's the Queen of Greece!" "Oh, yeah," nodded Dizzy with a yawn. "Where was she last night when I needed her for a full house?"

A FORMIDABLE female, built like a fullback on the Green Bay Packers, barged into a movie emporium followed by her meek five-foot-four husband. On her way to a pair of empty seats, she steamrollered past a lady in the aisle seat, stepping squarely on her toes without so much as a "Beg pardon." The lady on the aisle, infuriated, hissed, "I've a good mind to crack you over the head with this umbrella." The meek husband piped up. "Use your handbag and save the umbrella, lady: it's raining very hard again outside."

INSIDE WASHINGTON

Urban Plans Differ Widely In Scope

By PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — Before the end of the month, President Johnson must decide on the nature and final size of the program he will send to Congress to combat growing civil disorder in the nation's major cities.

When measured in dollars, the president's decision will be between a massive federal expenditure of $4 billion a year and a more modest program of $1 billion a year for new jobs, housing, and riot control measures.

At this juncture, the President's Commission on Civil Disorders, considering both programs for the White House, is split between the two.

FAVORING the "king size" program are commission members Mayor John Lindsay, New York; Rep. James C. Corman, D-Calif.; I. W. Abel, president of the United Steel Workers; Sen. Edward W. Brooke, R-Mass., and many commission research personnel, including members of the "city teams" which visited 23 cities torn by riots and civil disorders last summer.

This group also tends to support riot control measures that include programs designed to tighten civil control over the big city police departments. They want President Johnson to earmark funds for cities that establish civilian police review boards or similar institutions.

SUPPORTING the lower keyed $1 billion program are a group within the commission headed by Illinois Gov. Otto Kerner, chairman.

They include former Deputy Defense Sec. Cyrus Vance, who represented the president in Detroit during the rioting, Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark, Rep. William M. McCulloch, R-Ohio, and Kentucky Commerce Commissioner Katherine Peden.

The Kerner group, as it is called, favors building on existing programs rather than introducing new approaches. They want the president to seek an additional $1 billion for these programs, with the so-called "law and order" projects being given first priority.

Miss Peden, the only woman member on the President's panel, has taken the lead in presenting the latter argument of the group both inside and outside the commission.

IN SUPPORT of this argument, Miss Peden pointed out that only a small portion of so-called ghetto dwellers have been involved in the disorders so far.

Commission findings, she said, revealed that 8,397 Negroes were arrested in riots in Detroit, Newark, Cincinnati, and Grand Rapids, but that this figure represents less than one per cent of the total Negro population in the four cities.

Rather than programs to place new controls on local police, the Kerner group favors projects to improve internal control of police departments — a federal-aid program which most cities are likely to accept.

Because of the division within the commission, efforts are under way to resolve the dispute by having Vance, a longtime friend of the President, sound him out on whether they should recommend a compromise program.

STILL BEING debated by commission members is the role "outside agitators" played in last summer's violence. Although members at first did not regard their part as significant in fomenting the riots, new evidence has caused several to change their opinions in recent weeks.

Sen. John McClellan, D-Ark., whose Senate permanent investigating subcommittee is probing the big city riots, has passed word to the White House that the president should not commit himself to the theory there was no plot behind the riots.

Gurkha Brigade Vanishes With End Of Empire

By BRYCE W. ANDERSON

The British pull-out from the Far East, decided by Prime Minister Harold Wilson's cabinet this week, includes among other things abolishment of the Gurkha Brigade.

Their trade is war, and undoubtedly they will find new employment — with Malaysia, Australia, perhaps India. But the special role they played for over a century for Britain is ended.

They are unprepossessing figures, these little brown men from the mountain fastnesses of Nepal, which snuggles among the sharp slopes of the Himalayas between India and Tibet. But what fighters!

AT ITS PEAK during World War II, the Gurkha Brigade numbered 40 battalions. These were scattered over the globe, wherever the British had armed forces committed.

Great Britain has one preeminent military decoration for valor: the Victoria Cross. It was established in 1856, and in the next century, only 1,345 "VCs" were awarded. Of the first 29 given in World War II, six went to the Gurkhas.

Fighting is more than their trade; it is their religion. They are of a special Hindu warrior caste. Their trademark is their weapon, the kukri—a curved, broad cutlass worn on the belt. Every Gurkha keeps his kukri razor sharp.

THE BRITISH learned the Gurkhas' fighting ability the hard way, during battles to subdue Nepal in 1814-15. In the battle of Kulunga, 600 Gurkhas kept 4,000 British troops at bay for 33 days.

But when news of the Sepoy Mutiny in 1857 reached Kathmandu, the Nepalese capital, ruler Jung Bahadur sent 4,000 Gurkhas to relief of the British. From then until now, they served the Empire. They were hired mercenaries, but deeply respected.

There were many tales of them in World War II. A favorite was of the Gurkha who, in hand-to-hand fighting in Italy, made a swipe with his kukir at an enemy's throat. "Ha! You missed!" hissed the Italian. Replied the Gurkha, "Wait till you try to turn your head!"

An authentic one came to me first-hand at Chittagong, India. When Americans of the joint British-American Combat Cargo Task Force took over the airbase, they found a 150-foot-long munitions building was guarded at night by a single Gurkha. That wouldn't do, decided the American base commander, so he assigned two GIs to assist.

The Gurkha, deeply indignant, called on the commander and persuaded him to go along to the building. As they neared one end of it, the Gurkha pointed to a tree beyond the other end. Then with a quick motion he drew his kukri — and planted it squarely in the heart of the tree. The commander called off the GI guards.

WHEN THE GUNS of Japanese-held Fort Dufferin in Mandalay fell silent after long siege by the British-Indian 14th Army and the American Mars Task Force, it was Gurkhas who were sent in to see whether the enemy still lived. When they reappeared, after quite awhile, they reported "no Japs alive inside."

They never said how many were alive when they entered. That was not their way.

They will go on fighting, these Gurkhas, for it is their life. But no longer for Empire.

Hub Library Gets Cold Water Because Of A Dollar Difference

The library could do with some hot running water, the city administrator told the San Anselmo city father. He had obtained three estimates for comparison of costs if the council so desired.

The prices ranges around $215 for a 10-gallon electric heater. That seemed a simple enough matter, even at 11 p.m., but it got more complicated.

The two lower bids were only a dollar apart, with a Corte Madera firm lower than a San Anselmo one. Mayor Arthur W. Smith allowed that since the figures were obtained at random and did not involve formal bids, the San Anselmo dealer should be given preference.

COUNCILMAN Robert M. Scott, however, was concerned. It's a poor policy to start discriminating in favor of local firms, he said. For one thing, other councils will take note and the bread doesn't come back on the water unless you throw it there in the first place.

Councilman Woodrow V. Capurro had an interesting observation, only it had nothing to do with $1 differences. Why should the library have hot water, anyway? he asked. It never had it before.

Scott admitted this attitude is a sensitive one to him. The library has always been treated like a "step-child" of the city rather than a full family member, he said. Librarians and patrons get dirty hands like everybody else and they're entitled to hot water.

While he was at it, Scott also pointed out that librarians don't get a lunch break. The whole approach in unfair, said he.

CAPURRO WASN'T through, either, he wondered aloud why such matters — which he said are certainly council business — aren't brought directly before the council instead of the city administrator acquiring the estimates, then offering the item on the agenda.

But that's what city administrators are for, councilman Duane C. Ragan commented to Capurro — to take care of a multitude of matters preparatory to the council's consideration.

Capurro didn't agree. He said he was on the council to attend to city business, and that's what he expected to do.

Mayor Smith said it should clearly be known that he wasn't against hot water for libraries, but he strongly felt that with only a $1 difference, the business should go local.

He and Capurro voted against purchasing the lowest bid heater. Ragan and Scott voted for it. Because they disagreed, the council agreed to wait until next meeting when the absent member, councilman John M. Reichmuth, could cast the tie-breaking vote.

Architectural Advisory Group Changing Name

The Mill Valley Architectural Advisory Committee agreed Tuesday night to retitle itself the design review board, and recommended other changes in the ordinance establishing the group to bring it into closer conformity with the city zoning ordinance.

The ordinance will go to the city council for action.

The committee approved a site development plan for the Catalpa Apartments at 10 Catalpa Avenue, but rejected the final landscaping plan and asked for a resubmittal.

Bonsai Club Guest

Jim Kerr, who appears on the KQED program "Scotch Gardener" will speak at a meeting of the Marin Bonsai Club, Tuesday at 7:45 p.m. in the American Legion Log Cabin in San Anselmo. Subject of his talk will be "General Plant Information."

Kaiser Health Rates To Climb

Members of the Kaiser Foundation Health Plan in Northern California face an increase in monthly charges of about 6.2 per cent on April 1.

Frank C. Jones, health plan manager, said the charges will jump 60 cents for persons enrolled individually, $1.15 for a married couple and $1.50 for a family.

He attributed the increase to the "need to meet the advanced cost of goods and services."

Increases for members enrolled in groups will vary according to coverage, he said. Over 80 per cent of the 800,000 plan members are enrolled through groups.

To Pharmacy Board

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Gov. Ronald Reagan announced he has appointed James R. Gates, San Luis Obispo, and Carl L. Vitalie, Los Angeles, both pharmacists, to four-year-terms on the state Board of Pharmacy.

Average speed of cars on interstate highways is now 61.5 miles per hour, the U.S. Bureau of Public Roads said.

Why Not Give The New Left Land For Great Experiment?

Probably no previous era in history has boasted as many intellectuals as our New Left — indeed, their population explosion hints it might be wise to tell them about the pill. Certainly they would not offer any religious objections to it.

Now, some of these cognoscenti were born intellectual and some achieved it, but the bulk of this new breed of cats had the sobriquet thrust on them, if only by themselves. But they have no class distinctions and, in any demonstration, you'll see hippies, professors and pastors marching arm-in-arm — and you can't tell which is which without a scorecard.

IT DOES MAKE for strange bed-fellowship, of course. Such as when you find Sen. Eugene McCarthy waiting his turn to speak while a Black Power activist is urging the destruction of our major cities. The senator is no spellbinder at best, and he must have realized sadly that his scholarly address would fall especially flat after the pyrotechnics of a skillful rabble-rouser.

But if it is a motley crew, it is one in its conviction that ours is a sick society, scrofulous with the mold of a rotting Puritan Ethic, and that only a moral revolution can get us out of the morass we wallow in and hypocritically attempt to foist on our children.

Some of the precepts of these liberators indicate that their Ivory Tower is air-conditioned and that facts, which can be deadly to deep-thinkers, are not permitted to pollute the sacred premises. Their six-o'clock news apparently comes from Vietcong broadcasts.

Thus, they demand that we stop our bombing and declare a truce. Yet, in the six days prior to the recent New Year truce, North Vietnam sent a total of 750 trucks to its troops. But, in the 36-hour pause that followed, they sent in 1,800.

LESS ENLIGHTENED souls doubt that sort of truce will bring Ho to the conference table. What may do it, however, is the steady bombardment that has cut his food and his line of communication.

Other elite reactions seem just as strange. In Florida, a police chief annouces he will concentrate his men in area with a shocking record of NAACP cries out in protest, saying this will inevitably lead to police brutality.

And, during last year's riots when Molotov cocktails were setting fires to buildings, firemen were stoned — one died — when they attempted to put out the conflagrations. And New Left voices said it was their own fault — they should have remained neutral.

A CALIFORNIA PROFESSOR is fired for leading a group of students in breaking into a campus building — and the cries of "academic freedom" arise from some of his colleagues.

Now it may be that the New Left is sound in tese absurd-seeming notions. People laughed at Columbus, Galileo and the Wright Brothers, too — but not after they had demonstrated the validity of their theories.

The New Left is equally determined to prove itself but, as things stand, they cannot take over without a bloody civil war. In the interest of peace, then, I offer this reasonable solution:

THE GOVERNMENT owns most of our land as it is. Why can't we give up a few hundred thousand contiguous square miles, and donate it to the New Left to start a country of its own? I am normally not for foreign aid, but I think even Goldwater conservatives would be glad to start our intellectual elite off with a one-time gift of $10 billion or so, provided, of course, that they agreed never to return to our God-forsaken land. And we'd want a heavily guarded border to insure that.

There they could start their great experiment, unhampered by right-wingers, and show the world how to get along without an army, a police force, or a fire department. Think of the money they'd save by doing away with such bourgeois trappings!

The could build schoolhouses, art museums, hospitals and beautified cities with nary a slum. And everything would be free in Freedonia (or maybe they'd call it Freesexia) for surely a New Left legislature would vote the people what they needed without regard to a balanced budget.

Where, you say, would the money come from after our $10 billion went? Why, they have at least a hundred economists who handle tougher problems in their textbooks.

Give them five years and you'll see a sample of Heaven on earth. I can hardly wait.

Reagan Sees California's Congressmen

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gov. Ronald Reagan of California has pledged to maintain closer contact with California members of Congress to avoid misunderstanding of his state programs.

Reagan came to Washington yesterday for what he called his second annual report to Californians in Congress on his objectives for the year and matters that require cooperation at the national level.

LUNCHEON HOST

He met with the California Republican delegation before hosting a luncheon for the state's entire delegation at a restaurant near the capitol.

After the meeting with Republicans in the office of Rep. Glen P. Lipscomb, R-Calif., Reagan told newsmen of his plans for closer liaison.

He said he was asked about his administration's actions in the fields of mental health, welfare and "our approach to the medicaid program."

Reagan also talked for 50 minutes with the Republican leaders of the Senate and House in the office of Senate GOP Leader Everett Dirksen of Illinois.

CAUSE FOR ALARM

Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel, R-Calif., the Senate Republican whip, greeted the governor at the floor in the absence of Dirksen, reported ill with the flu.

Asked his appraisal of the Union, Reagan said it was "cause for alarm."

"People are deeply concerned about the campaign in Vietnam and in the seeming inability to bring it to a close," he said.

He said there is concern too, about "a morality gap — taking for granted wrong doing in high places."
